THE STATE ELECTION.

SUMMARY OF RETURNS.

State Probably Republican—Senate Doubtful—Assembly Democratic.

THE OFFICERS ELECTED.

We give below all the returns of the State election that had reached us up to the hour of our going to press. Instead of giving them in detail as they reached us, we have presented them in tabular form, and by majorities only, which we have compared with the majorities in the same counties last year. The comparison is not always accurate, since from many of the counties the returns this year are incomplete, while the majorities of last year, as given, are upon the full vote. Still they are sufficient to form a conjecture, more or less reliable, as to the general result.

Thus far the Republican losses do not seem sufficient to extinguish their very large majority of last year, and we are inclined to believe that the Republican State ticket is elected. We hear of the election of 18 Democratic Senators, with 13 Districts to hear from; 5 more will give them a majority. The Assembly will probably have a Democratic majority.

The results in this City were stated yesterday. The following are our returns:

Plurality for Banks, (Republican,) 23,249. Three hundred and fourteen towns are heard from, leaving only twelve in the State. The Republican vote is probably about 30,000 to 35,000 less than last year.

Of the eight Councillors, seven are Banks men, and one is a Gardner man.

The Democrats have elected three Senators, which is a gain, as they had none last year. The Gardner party have elected two, possibly three, and the Banks party have the rest, 35.

To the House the Democrats have elected 34, Gardner 32, Banks 157, and 17 towns wanting.

The whole State ticket which Mr. BANKS headed is chosen, namely: For Lieutenant-Governor, Ellis Lee Trask, of Springfield; for Secretary of the Commonwealth, Oliver Warner, of Northampton; for Treasurer and Receiver-General, Moses Tenney, Jr., of Georgetown; for Auditor, Charles White, of Worcester; for Attorney-General, Stephen H. Phillips, of Salem.

The triumph of the Banks party is therefore complete. In Boston, yesterday, the Republicans announced their triumph by firing one hundred guns on the Common.

MARYLAND ELECTION.

Undoubted Success of the Americans.

RIOTING AND BLOODSHED IN BALTIMORE—VOTERS DRIVEN FROM THE POLLS, &C.

BALTIMORE, Wednesday, Nov. 4—A. M.

The election here is proceeding quietly. There are indications of a large vote. The taverns are generally closed, and so far there has been no disorder beyond some tippling, and, in one instance, a knock down. The Mayor is personally visiting the polls, and exhorting all to deal fairly and maintain the peace.

BALTIMORE, Wednesday, Nov. 4—Noon.

We have reports of serious disturbances in the remote Wards of the city.

In the Seventeenth Ward an Irishman has been killed, and another man is reported fatally wounded.

A difficulty took place in the Thirteenth Ward, and the naturalized voters were driven from the polls.

Many rumors are afloat, but in the absence of reliable information we forbear to give them.

In most of the Wards matters are quiet and peaceable.

BALTIMORE, Wednesday, Nov. 4—8:35 P. M.

The election passed off more quietly in the latter part of the day than was expected, though there has been a good deal of disorder and some bloodshed.

The parties in the Seventeenth Ward, mentioned in the dispatch this forenoon, are not dead, but both are seriously, if not fatally, wounded.

Another man was shot near the Fourth Ward polls this evening, but whether fatally or not is not yet ascertained.

The police have captured a large quantity of arms. They had been taken from one or two of the armories.

We have no returns as yet.

BALTIMORE, Wednesday, Nov. 4—9½ P. M.

The Americans are now marching the streets with music and transparencies, firing guns and pistols, cheering loudly and claiming the election of their whole ticket.

The scattering returns indicate a gain on FILLMORE'S vote, whose majority was 7,000.

There is no doubt that the Americans have swept the State.

The following are reported majorities:

First Ward, 637 majority for Hicks; Second Ward, 300 majority for Hicks; Fourth Ward, 1,623 majority for Hicks; Eighth Ward, 2,500 majority for Groom, Democrat, for Governor.

BALTIMORE, Wednesday, Midnight, Nov. 4.

The Sixth Ward, of this city, gives Hicks, American, for Governor, 817 majority; the Ninth Ward 68; the Tenth Ward 22 and the Thirteenth Ward 420.

BALTIMORE, Thursday, Nov. 5—12½ A. M.

In this city the whole American Ticket is elected, including Harris and Davis, in the Third and Fourth Congressional Districts.

The American majority in the City is over 9,000 so far.

The Third Ward just in gives Hicks 823 majority.

Scattering returns from the Fifth Congressional District show gains for Kenkle, Democrat.

NEW-JERSEY ELECTION.

The Legislature Largely Democratic.

TRENTON, Wednesday, Nov. 4.

The State is Democratic in both Senate and Assembly.

In Mercer County, Fish, Democrat, is elected to the Assembly by 250 majority. Messrs. Van Dyke and Martin, of the Opposition, are elected to the Assembly. Belleville, Opposition, is elected Clerk, and Rogers, Opposition, Surrogate.

The Democrats have elected six Senators out of eight. The Legislature will stand fifteen Democrats, four Americans, one Republican, and one Fusion. In the House the Democrats have 35 and the Opposition 25. This will give the Democrats a majority of 19 on joint ballot.

Judicial Election of the Vermont Legislature.

MONTPELIER, Wednesday, Nov. 4.

The Legislature to-day made the following Judicial Elections:

Chief Justice—Isaac P. Redfield, of Windsor.

Assistant Judges—M. L. Bennett, of Burlington; Luke P. Poland, of St. Johnsbury; Asa C. Aldes, of St. Albans; John Pierpont, of Vergennes; and Jas. Barrett, of Woodstock.

Election in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Mich., Wednesday, Nov. 4.

At the County Election yesterday, the Republicans elected their entire ticket. Their majority will probably reach 1,700.

POLITICAL.—The election in Kings County is so one-sided as to be almost entirely devoid of interest in its details. The total vote of the county was a little over 21,000. This was divided upon the State officers as follows: Democrats, 12,500; Americans, 4,500; Republicans, 4,500.

RENKEN, Democratic candidate for Sheriff, received 12,542 votes, against 8,804 for SEXTER, the Union candidate. The successful candidates were correctly reported yesterday.

COMMISSIONERS OF EMIGRATION.—The Commissioners of Emigration met in Worth-street on Wednesday, the President, GULIAN C. VERPLANCK, Esq., in the Chair.

A communication was received from the Quarantine Commissioners stating that no notice had been taken of a former communication to the Board in reference to the buildings at Quarantine. They state that inasmuch as it is not their wish these erections should go into dilapidation, they have appointed a watchman to take care of them, whom they will pay up to the 6th of the present month and no longer. They wish the Emigration Commissioners to take charge of these buildings according to the provisions of the law.

The matter was referred to the Committee on Quarantine.

A resolution was adopted requesting the Directors of the Historical Society to appoint a place in their new building for the portrait of G. C. VERPLANCK, Esq., lately printed by Huntington and now suspended in the Board-room of this Commission.

The following is the usual weekly report:

Coroner's Inquests.

THE SUPPOSED WIFE MURDER IN VARICK-STREET.—An inquest was held yesterday by Coroner HILLS at the Eighth Ward Station-house, on the body of Mary Cain, who was found dead Tuesday morning at No. 173 Varick-street. The evidence showed that the deceased was very intemperate in her habits, and that the bruises on her person were caused by her frequent falls while intoxicated. There was no testimony to prove that her husband was in the habit of beating her. The medical testimony showed that there were no marks of violence on the body sufficient to cause death. The verdict was "Death by intemperance," and the husband was discharged from custody.

ANOTHER DEATH FROM INTEMPERANCE.—An inquest was held, yesterday, at the City Hospital on the body of Charles Noolan, who died from injuries to his spine, caused by a fall from the piazza of his house while intoxicated. A verdict was rendered accordingly. Deceased was a native of England and 35 years of age.

FATAL FALL ON SHIPBOARD.—Coroner Hills held an inquest, yesterday, at the Hospital in the case of Patrick O'Hearn, a laborer, who died from the effects of injuries received on board the ship Bridgewater, on the 30th ult. He was engaged at a hoisting rope, when it broke and a tub of grain fell on his head. A verdict was rendered of accidental death,

The R. M. steamship Canada, Capt. LANG, arrived here at 8 o'clock this morning. She left Liverpool at noon on the 24th ult.; her dates are consequently three days later than those already received by the Arago at New-York, and the Indian at Quebec.

The steamer Antelope, from Portland, arrived out at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of the 23d ult.

The steamer Indiana, from New-York, arrived at Southampton on the 23d ult.

The Financial News.

Financial matters are still the most interesting portion of the news.

In London on Wednesday, the 21st ult., the funds showed undiminished firmness, at a slight advance over Tuesday's rates. On the Stock Exchange money was in good supply at 5 to 5½ per cent. on Government securities, and at the Bank and Discount Market there was an absence of pressure.

The Times' City article, dated Wednesday evening, says: "The advance in the Bank rate to eight per cent. seems greatly to have checked the exportation of gold to New-York. The Arago, from Southampton, has taken out £30,000 from France, but only £7,500 from England, while the total by the City of Baltimore, from Liverpool, is only £8,200. It was intended to send £20,000 by the latter vessel, but the Bank movement caused the principal portion to be countermanded. The quantity of goods being forwarded is very small, and this fact will tend to improve the American exchanges. The India Company have given notice of a further rise of four per cent. on their rate for bills on India."

On Thursday, 22d ult., the funds exhibited great steadiness, closing at a slight advance.

The Times says the Money Market is exceedingly quiet, and owing to the absence of any important failures and the signs of general stability among the leading manufacturing and shipping firms throughout the country, a very satisfactory feeling is observable. Uncertainty still prevails as to the probability of any further upward movement on the part of the Bank, but the question will perhaps be solved before the lapse of another week. The demand for money is comparatively quiet both at the Bank and out of doors. Numerous suspensions continue to be announced on the Continent, especially among the manufacturing firms of Germany.

The Bank of England had thrown out some American bills, known or supposed to be connected with intended shipments of specie to the United States.

On Friday the funds continued buoyant. There were no gold withdrawals from the Bank.

The rate of discount at Hamburg had declined to 8½ per cent.

The Bank of Belgium has advanced its rate of discount to 5½ per cent.

The Bank of Denmark has increased its rate of discount from 5 to 6 per cent.

The Times says that the Canada takes out tenders for £400,000 of 8 per cent. bonds of the Michigan Central Railroad for the extinction of a portion of their floating debt.

The value of money on the Stock Exchange remains as low as 5 per cent.

The Daily News of Friday says that the demand for money at the Bank of England was heavy.

There had been a monetary pressure on the banks of Ireland.

The Receiver-General of Taxes at Angiers, France, has suspended, in consequence of speculations on the Bourse, with a deficit in his accounts of 400,000 francs.

The Daily News Paris correspondent writes that the Governor of the Bank of France went to Compiegne on Tuesday, prepared to ask the Emperor for a decree giving forced currency to bank-notes. It was not likely that the request would be granted.

The Bullion in the Bank of France was stated upon reliable authority to have decreased thirty-five millions of francs since the last monthly returns.

Failures were expected in Paris.

Gold was being taken from the Bank of France for America.

The French Three Per Cents closed at 66f. 85c.

The Vienna correspondent of the London Times, writing on the 19th ult., says that during the last two or three days there had been a lull in the financial pressure, but that it was considered probable that the crisis was very far from being attained, and that it was not improbable that the other Italian States would follow the example of Parma in withdrawing from the Austrian Customs Union.

A letter from Zurich, Switzerland, states that thirty commercial houses, principally in the silk and ribbon trade, have failed there.

Great Britain.

Lord MACAULAY has been elected High Steward of Cambridge.

The papers continue to publish lengthy speeches by prominent men on the affairs of India. Amongst others, the Duke of Cambridge addressed the citizens of Sheffield, on the occasion of laying the foundation stone for the Crimean monument. He urged stern justice to the mutineers, and stated that recruiting was progressing in a perfectly incredible manner.

Mr. GLADSTONE made a speech at Liverpool upon the educational question. He looked upon patronage as the curse and plague of the country, and hoped for the day when nearly every office will be held up in the face of the country for the best candidate.

An examination in the Bankruptcy Court of London, has brought to light extraordinary exposures in regard to the manufacture of accommodation bills by commercial men.

A dispatch from Madrid says that the Cortes was convoked for the 30th of October, but will not assemble till the 30th of December.

Prussia.

The King of Prussia was regaining his health very slowly—indeed it is inferred that his physicians when officially called upon will have to give such a certificate in regard to the probability of the King being able to resume his monarchical functions as will warrant the constitutional assumption of the Regency by the Prince of Prussia.

Italy.

The Pope was paying his promised visit to Civita Vecchia, where he was greeted with various demonstrations of respect.

Turkey.

A telegraphic dispatch, dated Jassy, Oct. 19, states that the Divan had that day come to a resolution to recognize the rights of the port, and in favor of a union of the Principalities under a constitutional sovereign, to be chosen from one of the Western dynasties, a representative form of Government, and a neutrality of State. The Wallachia Divan had arrived at a similar result.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Thursday.—The Turkish Ministry has been overthrown, and RESCHID PACHA has been appointed Grand Vizier; RIZA PACHA, Minister of War, YASSIF PACHA, to the Imperial Guard, and PERRI PACHA to the Artillery.

The Duke of OPORTO, brother of the King of Portugal, is spoken of as the likely candidate to the throne of the United Principalities.

France is now said to regret that the question of union has gone so far, because serious complications must arise between Austria and Prussia on the subject.

India.

There is nothing later from India.

LONDON, Saturday morning.

The Paris correspondent of the Daily News, says that the overthrow of the Turkish Cabinet had long been foreseen, the late Cabinet having found its financial difficulties beyond its strength.

A French dispatch says that the Porte persists in the claim to the Island of Perim, and refuses the offered indemnity.

The Russian Legation at Teheran has offered the Persian division of the army of the Caucasus to assist in the pacification of Khorassan.

A serious collision has taken place at Frankfort between the soldiers there of the different crops. It is thought that several of the regiments must be removed from the city.

Vice-Admiral Sir M. BERKLEY, who has resigned his post of First Naval Lord of the Admiralty, it is reported, will be raised to a peerage.

The Morning Star says it is thoroughly understood that not only the Premier, but all the members of the Cabinet, have finally arranged for the recall of the present Governor-General of India.

The Daily News makes an important announcement. It understands that the French Government have decided upon rescinding the prohibition against the export of corn and flour from France. To this step they are impelled in consequence of strong remonstrances from the agricultural districts. One likely effect of the measure, according to the Daily News, will be to perceipitate a fall in the English Corn Markets, which are already depressed by the high rate of interest coupled with the accounts from America.

The Daily News has also another article of news which is interesting—that the East India Company are about to make some large remittances of silver to India; that they have already effected insurances to the amount of at least £200,000. The policy now inaugurated by the East India Company will tend to aggravate the drain of silver, at a time when it has already acquired very inconvenient proportions. The Daily News remarks, in conclusion, that the period is evidently drawing near when the expenditure entailed by the Indian revolt will exercise a more direct influence upon the English market. The approaching dispatch of two hundred thousand or half a million sterling in silver by the Indian House authorities, to the relief of the local Government, will probably be only the first of a series of calls upon this market.

A telegram from St. Petersburg quotes the Exchange on London as low as 36d. At this Exchange, gold ought to flow freely to this side. The reason it does not is to be found in the fact that the precious metals command 3¾ per cent. premium among the money changers. The Bank only furnishes small amounts of gold to applicants.

On Saturday, the Count LIONDERO formally demanded the hand of the German Princess STEPHANIE of Sigmaringon, for his Sovereign, the King of Portugal.

It is officially stated that it is the intention to launch the Great Eastern either on Nov. 3, or Dec. 2.

LONDON, Saturday—10:15 A. M.

During a conflict at Frankfort, between the soldiers of the Federal garrison and the men of the Austrian and Bavarian regiments, swords and bayonets were brought freely into use, and a great number of soldiers were wounded on both sides. The Servian Goverment had made known that the plot recently discovered was of a Republican character, and that the chiefs of it were in communication with the leaders of existing movements in the Danubian Principalities.

Accounts from Constantinople state that the Porte considers that its treaties have been violated by the recent appearance of a Russian ship-of-war, the Rutschuck, and it has accordingly demanded an explanation from the Russian Ambassador at Constantinople.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE.

Liverpool Cotton Market.

The Brokers' Circular of the Liverpool Cotton Market quotes all qualities slightly lower, and the middling qualities ½d.@3-16d. lower. The inferior qualities were irregular and nominal. The sales of the week were 21,000 bales, including 3,000 to speculators and 1,000 for export. The sales of Friday were 3,000 bales, of which 1,000 bales were for export, the market closing with very little inquiry, and prices barely sustained at the following rates: Fair Orleans, 9¾d.; Middling Orleans, 9 1-16d.; Fair Mobiles, 9¾d.; Middling Mobiles, 9¼d.; Fair Uplands, 8¼d.; Middling Uplands, 8⅞d. The stock in port was estimated at 315,000 bales, of which 160,000 were American.

The advices from Manchester and the manufacturing districts generally, are unfavorable. A very dull tone prevailed.

Liverpool Breadstuffs Market.

In the Liverpool Market Breadstuffs were dull, with a declining tendency. Messrs. RICHARDSON, SPENCE & Co. say Flour was dull and nominally unchanged since Tuesday; Western Canal, 29s.@30s. 6d.; Philadelphia and Baltimore, 31s.@31s. 6d.; Ohio, 32s.@33s. WHEAT dull and 2d.@3d. lower, white inferior was almost unsalable; red, 7s.@7s. 10d.; white, 7s. 10d.@8s. 9d., and choice 9s. CORN quiet and steady; mixed and yellow, 37s. 6d.; white, 41s.@42s.

CASE OF MRS. WOODMAN.

Traverse to the Return—Offer to Put in Evidence on Affidavit of Mrs. Woodman Characterized as Libellous by Relator's Counsel—Evidence of Mr. Pritchard in Support of the Affidavits.

SUPREME COURT—SPECIAL TERM—Nov. 4.

Before Hon. Judge ROOSEVELT.

The hearing of further argument on the Habeas Corpus case of Mrs. Caroline Woodman was resumed to-day before Hon. Judge ROOSEVELT in the room generally occupied by the first part of the Court of Common Pleas in the City Hall. The public attendance was quite large.

Mr. Brady recalled to the attention of the Court the fact that he had on former occasions stated his intention to move for a postponement of this case till the 8th of November, and he would make that motion on the proofs submitted. He wished to know on what evidence the other side meant to rely.

Mr. Busteed said he had a preliminary objection to that motion, when it came to be made, which he now wished to interpose, and which, he thought, would operate as a reason against having any such motion at this stage of the proceedings. He had been advertised that there was more testimony upon that motion. He supposed it would be improper to receive any more testimony upon that subject now, without furnishing to them (relator's counsel) the very thing which they did not desire—a pretext for delay. And rather than that should occur by any act of the relator, and rather than that his counsel—Mrs. Woodman's counsel—should appear for a moment to occupy such a position, upon the discussion on a writ of habeas corpus, and especially in this case, he would strenuously oppose the introduction of any more testimony, upon the ground of delay. He thought he understood his Honor (the Judge) to place the propriety of such a motion on the strength of Mrs. Woodman's own request, about which he would have something to say when that motion came to be argued. For the present he would content himself with saying that his Honor had no right to hear such a motion at this stage of the proceedings, that the only question which had hitherto been discussed in its statutory and orderly method was in relation to the application for an attachment against these parties for the nonproduction of the body according to the exigencies of his Honor's writ. Before the motion on the main issue—viz.: whether this woman should or should not be allowed the benefit of the writ of habeas corpus—could be entertained, the pleadings in this case must be put in, and when the issues contemplated by the statutes of the State were in a clear and legal manner presented for his (the Judge's) consideration, his Honor might then, perhaps, entertain jurisdiction of a motion to adjourn this Court of habeas corpus, upon which it would give him (Counsel) much pleasure to be heard.

Mr. Brady thought the matter a very simple one. He had never heard that a motion to postpone a judicial proceeding was ever too late.

The Judge said it was quite obvious to any person who had traced this proceeding that the main issue was whether this lady was in that condition of mind which could, within certain legal limits, be termed unsound. It was not absolutely necessary that she should be a lunatic, but simply in a state of unsound mind. If he was to assume that she was in a state of unsound mind, then the communication which had been read here in her name requesting a suspension of proceedings must be disregarded. If he was to assume that she was of sound mind, then he must discharge her. It was obvious, then, that they had got to ascertain what was the state of her mind, even for the purpose of determining this motion to postpone, and the object of a motion to postpone could just as effectually be accomplished after the whole case was heard as before. He preferred, therefore, that the evidence in the case be finished.

Mr. Busteed asked if his Honor intimated, that it was proper to finish the pleadings now?

The Judge answered that as he had already stated, this was not an ordinary case of habeas corpus where a sane person is brought up, but a case in which it was set up that there was reasonable ground to suppose, although it had not been proved, that this woman was not competent to direct the proceeding, and that matter must first be disposed of. He should suppose that regular pleadings were not needed in this case.

Mr. Brady said there was one thing on which he wished his Honor to hold his mind free from any predetermined conclusion. He meant to insist as a matter of law, that, in a case of necessity, a husband has a right to place his wife under so much moral restraint as is essential to the protection of her life and health, and that cannot be interfered with by any Judge or other person. That was wholly aloof from the question of insanity.

Mr. Busteed asked the Court for an order to enable Mrs. Woodman to comply with the statutes of the State, and providing that she be brought from Flushing to New-York to some place in New-York designated by the Court, so that in the presence of her counsel, by their advice and assistance, and in the presence of Dr. Rufus Sanger, she might traverse this return to the writ of habeas corpus. Mr. Busteed read the 6th section of the statute as sustaining his demand.

The Judge asked whether it was not contradictory to act on the apparently irreconcilable assumptions that her presence was at one and the same time to be excused because of the state of her mind

ARRIVAL OF THE STAR OF THE WEST

A MILLION AND A HALF IN TREASURE

Very Important from Central America.

Seizure and Blockade of the San Juan River by Costa Rica.

ANNULMENT OF THE WEBSTER TRANSIT GRANT.

INTERESTING FROM NEW-GRANADA.

One Month Later from the South Pacific.

ADDITIONAL FROM CALIFORNIA.

The U. S. Mail steamship Star of the West, A. G. GRAY commanding, from Aspinwall on the night of the 24th ult., vid Havana, arrived at this port yesterday morning.

The news from San Francisco has been anticipated by the arrival of the Quaker City from Havana.

The Pacific Mail steamship Golden Gate left San Francisco Oct. 5, with the usual semi-monthly mails, passengers and treasure, but had not proceeded over 400 miles when she broke her shaft, and was compelled to put back. She arrived in San Francisco on the 10th, and transferred her cargo, mails and passengers to steamship Golden Age, which left on the night of the 11th, and arrived at Panama on the morning of the 24th. Hon. D. C. BRODERICK, Col. J. C. FREMONT, and Gov. STEVENS and family, of Oregon, were among the passengers from California.

The following passengers died on board the Golden Age:

Oct. 15—W. H. Hoag, of Greenbush, Rensselaer County, N. Y., aged 50 years. Oct. 18—J. Biscaina, aged 5 years, of pleurisy. Oct. 19—N. Sweeny, 41 years, of consumption. Oct. 21—Mrs. Haley, of Gloucester, Mass., of consumption, aged 42 years. Nov. 3—on board Star of the West, died Henry Woods, waiter, aged 27 years.

On Oct. 29, 18 miles west of Havana, the Star of the West spoke the steamship St. Louis, bound to Aspinwall, and on the 31st exchanged signals with Black Warrior.

We are indebted to Purser BULLAY for special favors, and to Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express for papers received with dispatch.

The San Juan River Seized by Costa Rica —Official Announcement of the Blockade —Probabilities of Another War—Annulment of the Transit Grant to Webster and Harris—Another Rival in the Field—The Elections in Nicaragua—Disturbances in Guatemala—The Honduras Railway.

From Our Own Correspondent.

PANAMA, October, 1857.

The British steam line-of-battle-ship Brunswick arrived at Aspinwall on the 19th, with papers from Granada to Oct. 3; Costa Rica to the 10th, and Greytown to Oct. 17.

The Brunswick brings the important intelligence that Colonel CAUTY, Jr., in command of the River San Juan, had taken possession of the whole line of it in the name of Costa Rica, and refused to allow boats or other craft of Nicaragua to pass up and down. Also, that Colonel CAUTY, about the 13th instant, had suddenly sent off a force to take possession of Fort San Carlos, at the mouth of the Lake. This movement is reported to have taken place on account of the reports that WALKER was again coming out to endeavor to re-establish himself in Nicaragua. Another supposition is, that it is done to prevent any transit company from occupying the route, under Nicaraguan grants.

It is said that Col. CAUTY has under his command at Castillo 500 men. But a Colonel SCHLESINGER, just arrived here from San Jose de Costa Rica, says the number does not exceed 250 men.

The following is the official announcement of the blockade of the San Juan River by Costa Rica:

COMANDANCIA DEL RIO SAN JUAN,
Steamer San Carlos, Oct. 13,
Off Fort San Carlos.

To C. J. Chartier, Esq., Chief Magistrate Greytown, Mosquito:

SIR: I beg leave to announce to you that, by order of the Comandancia General of Costa Rica, under date of 17th September, I am directed to demand of the Comandante of Fort San Carlos the custody of that fort, and, in case of his not conceding it, I have instructions to blockade it, above and below, so as to enforce its surrender after the 15th of this month.

As my instructions in this matter are that I am to avoid by every possible means a collision which may lead to the effusion of blood, and as the object is to insure the better custody only of the River San Juan against the threatened filibuster invasion, "as the government of Costa Rica does not consider that the State of Nicaragua, without a legitimate government, or without resources, can sufficiently guarantee that important post, pending a definite arrangement in the country," I have considered it necessary to advise you of the blockade, in order that the inhabitants of Greytown may not expose themselves to the inconvenience of detention in trying to communicate with the fort of San Carlos, until its surrender, after the notification of its blockade.

I beg the favor of your communicating this to all whom it may concern,

And I am, Sir, your obedient servant,

GEORGE F. CAUTY.

A Mr. GLOVER arrived here in the Star of the West, with the avowed purpose of obtaining for a Company in New-York a grant from Nicaragua of the Transit Route. I scarcely think GLOVER is working for VANDERBILT, as he appears to hate that distinguished personage with a hearty good will. Messrs. GLENTON and MANNING have a claim, of a few years' standing, on Nicaragua for $200,000. Mr. GLENTON died about six months since, and it seems that Mr. GLOVER is his executor. This claim against Nicaragua is the basis of his expectations of the grant. I should, however, judge him to be quite too communicative about his business, if it really be what he professes. He seems to be very anxious to get to Managua, the seat of Government of Nicaragua, as soon as possible; and as the steamship Columbus had left when he arrived, he goes by San Juan del Norte in the British steamer of the 26th. Col. CAUTY, Senior, being still more anxious to get to Nicaragua than Mr. G. is, has chartered a schooner to take him to Greytown. Mr. GLOVER says that Col. CAUTY has agreed to pass him safely up the river on his mission! I have an idea that if the old fox has promised him this, it is with the mental reservation that he will keep him safely at Castillo until Costa Rica shall grant him a passport to Managua.

Another agent of Costa Rica goes by this steamer to New-York, in the person of Mr. CARRANZA. This transit business seems to give occupation to quite an army of agents.

General MARTINEZ, who will probably be named President of Nicaragua, if a row does not upset his platter before November, will dispute, most probably, the right of Costa Rica to interfere in the transit business at all. And from the following, which I translate from an article in the Centro-Americano, of Granada, of Sept. 26, which paper is the organ of MARTINEZ, it appears that the new President in expectancy has no great faith in the honesty of Mr. BUCHANAN:

"The press of the United States takes it for granted that the Government of the Union will interfere in the affairs of Central America. It is said that Mr. BUCHANAN is disposed to take the part of Nicaragua against Costa Rica in the regulation of the question of limits; but, in this case, Nicaragua is WALKER, and WALKER is Slavery!"

The article is rather hard on Costa Rica, and it really looks now as if Nicaragua is again to be made the scene of war and revolutions.

F. W. R.

From Our Own Correspondent.

PANAMA, Monday, Oct. 19, 1857.

The Panama Railroad Company's steamship Columbus, Capt. J. M. DOW, arrived at this port on the 9th inst. from Central American ports. She brought 20 passengers and the following freight: 4,173 hides; 273 packages sugar; 114 ceroons cochineal; 13 ceroons indigo; 216 bags beans; 47 bags rice; 22 packages deer skins; 21 packages tobacco; 16 bags coffee; 6 jars balsam, and 27 packages sundries.

COSTA RICA.

Dates from Punta Arenas are to Oct. 6, and papers from San Jose to the 3d. I have a private letter from San Jose, the Capital, dated Oct. 4, principally in regard to the Nicaragua Transit Route. I extract a few paragraphs for you:

SAN JOSE, Sunday, Oct. 4, 1857.

The Transit contract with HARRIS & WEBSTER has been annulled by this Government. I think the Government is now heartily disgusted with the whole transaction. At least one would think so, from the promptness with which they declared the bargain null and void on the day and hour at which the first installment of $500,000 became due, and was not forthcoming. Instead of the money, came a letter asking fifteen days' grace; but it would not do; the gates of Paradise were closed upon them forever, and a different action has been determined on. A commission left here, to go down on the Columbus, for the purpose of proposing to the United States Government a plan by which the Transit route may be declared free to all the world. In return for the surrender of her rights, Costa Rica only asks that the United States will guarantee the neutrality and security of the route. I think the proposition cannot fail to be favorably received by the American Cabinet.

The news of the Harris and Webster failure brought Mr. ANDERSON, VANDERBILT's friend, down here from Cartago. He appears to be in good condition, but his star is not in the ascendant.

General CANAS has been spending a few days here. He speaks in the warmest terms of Commander DAVIS. He goes to Nicaragua in the Columbus, but will shortly return here, and be made Minister of War.

Congress was still in session at San José.

There was a considerable number of WALKER's fillibusters at Punta Arenas, some sick and all ragged and dirty. TOM EDWARDS, who was charged with robbing Mr. BUCHANAN'S secret agent, WM. CAREY JONES, is also there. He repels with great indignation the charge of having robbed his compagnon du voyage. He says he is "ready and free to admit" that when he can get a good chance to "palm" the cards on a friend, or even to "wax" them, he is not above such legitimate business—but he scorns downright, fair and square stealing.

Mr. HENRY GOTTEL, who was ruined in Nicaragua by WALKER'S taking all his transit mules for the army, is about to put on a daily line of stages or wagons from Punta Arenas to San José. He proposes to carry the mails through in one day, and also to transport coffee to Punta Arenas at a cheaper rate than the present. Mr. G. also proposes to establish an express business to California, the Atlantic States and Europe.

The government issued a decree dated the 26th of September, prohibiting the sale of foreign liquors in less quantities than a bottle, to take effect in ten months. The object is said to be to encourage home manufactures. The government has also prohibited the retail of liquors and public gambling in the hotels.

The railroad from Punta Arenas to Barranca is making good progress. The rails are continued through the streets of Punta Arenas, so that coffee and other goods may be transported back and forward to the commercial houses.

Coffee has advanced in price. In San José $9 50 has been paid for the coming crop, which is equivalent to $11 in Punta Arenas. But few like to pay this price, as they are afraid it is too high to realize profits on shipments. The season has been very dry, and many think the crop in consequence will not be so large as last year. Hides bring from 15 to 17 cents. There is but little flour in the interior, in consequence of the difficulties of transportation over the bad roads, but the stock in Punta Arenas is ample.

NICARAGUA.

Newspaper dates from Nicaragua are only up to the 19th September, from Granada and other points. I have, however, received a private letter from an intelligent source, dated at Leon, October 2, from which I send you the following extracts:

LEON, Friday, Oct. 2, 1857.

The election for Presidential Electors came off yesterday, in Leon. It was thought by many that MARTINEZ, the Chamorrista, had so overcome the prejudices of the Leon or Democratic party, especially as he had the support of his present coadjutor in the Government, Gen. JEREZ, the chief of the latter party, would be the successful candidate. But the returns, so far, do not show very favorably for him. However, it is impossible to know what will be the result—for one of the most uncertain things in the world, is a Spanish-American election.

I forward to you a Decree issued a fortnight since, ordering the people to hold themselves in readiness to oppose another invasion by WALKER. No well-informed person here expects such a contingency, and many think the decree is only a political dodge to raise an excitement or alarm, thereby uniting the people until after the President is made. All citizens who are absent are required to return; and all fillibusters who have served in WALKER'S force are ordered to quit the country within fifteen days, or present themselves to some legal authority to prove that they are engaged in some useful and honorable occupation—in which case the authorities are authorized, at their discretion, to allow them to remain. A considerable number of WALKER'S men are still in the country, and with the exception of a few of the most obnoxious, whom this decree was especially promulgated to reach, will be allowed to remain. There is but little prejudice or ill-will against foreigners in Nicaragua, not half so much as might naturally be expected from the terrible sufferings the natives endured at the hands of the fillibusters.

The people are highly indignant that the Government of Costa Rica should have presumed to trade away the right of the transit, and when this feeling reaches Costa it will be respected. Another thing touches the pride of this people: the Government of Costa Rica still holds Castillo, which commands the navigation of the San Juan River, and evidently intend to occupy it permanently. Costa Rica likewise holds Guanacaste, which is claimed by Nicaragua—but she has not a soldier in any other part of the country.

The Electors will assemble 1st November to ballot for President.

S. L. E.

From San Juan del Sur, I learn that the few persons remaining there are very poor, and almost entirely destitute of provisions. While the Columbus was in port they had a sort of jubilee on the occasion of the slaughter of a bullock, such a thing not having before occurred for weeks. Notwithstanding this rejoicing, however, not 30 dimes' worth could be turned into cash.

The Centro-Americano, printed at Granada, has an editorial on WALKER and things in general from which I extract the following paragraphs:

"Throughout the length and breadth of our heaven-favored country, there now reigns the most profound and unbroken peace. The laws are promptly enforced, property and life are everywhere respected, and each man, with a laudable patriotism, is exerting himself to the utmost, in repairing the disasters and ravages occasioned by the late bloody raid. Managua, Massaya and Granada are rapidly assuming their former prosperous and happy condition; and in a few months more there will not the slightest vestige be left to tell of the advent of the highwayman,—he will have stamped no traces of his presence upon the soil of our country, except the bleaching and unburied bones of his soldiers which now environ the Church of Guadalupe, and the grave-yards of Granada and Rivas, peopled with his unfortunate and deluded victims.

Regardless of the afflicting calamities which the introduction of foreigners have occasioned to this country, the existing authorities are nevertheless still extremely anxious for the immigration of a moral, industrious and labor-loving population. To the conscientious capitalist, and to the indigent and honest artizan and agriculturalist of every country, the ports of this Republic are still open. Come with the spade, the axe, the plow and the hammer, and you receive a fraternal welcome; but come with the rifle, the pistol and the bowie-knife, and we will point you as a prophetic warning of the fate that awaits you, to the bleaching bones, unburied and unknown, which now environ the dismantled Shrine of Guadalupe."

The Centro-Americano also contains an extended "Reply to the Address of General WALKER at New-Orleans," which is not very complimentary to the great fillibuster. It tells but little that was not before known, however.

WILLIAM CAREY JONES arrived at Granada about Sept. 30.

False money is being actively manufactured in Nicaragua, of the following class: Mexican ounces of 1846 and 1855; Bogota ounces of 1848; Popayan, 1846 and 1855; Ecuadorian ounces of 1828, and American eagles and dimes.

The British steamship Dee, at Aspinwall, brought dates from Greytown to Oct. 5. There is little but "rumor" by this arrival. "Rumor" says that 500 Costa Ricans are at Castillo, which has been strongly fortified, and that Guatemala, San Salvador and Honduras, are sending a large force to or near San Carlos, to prevent its falling into the hands of Costa Rica. From the aspect of things, a collision is anticipated between Costa Rica and Nicaragua before a great while, in which "rumor" says that Guatemala and Honduras will participate, taking the side of Nicaragua, their friendly feelings for Costa Rica being destroyed by the course of the latter in the transit treaty business. The steamers, it said, will soon begin running up the river. One was expected hourly from Castillo. The bark Seraphina, 25 days from New-York, had arrived on the 4th at Greytown with provisions.

SALVADOR AND GUATEMALA.

Newspaper dates from Salvador and Guatemala are only up to Sept. 20. There is nothing of interest from either country. Ex-President SAN MARTIN, of Salvador, had died, at the age of 70. The Indians of Los Altos Chinaltinangos were giving the Government of Guatemala some trouble. A revolution had been attempted at Santa Rosa. Some ignorant persons were induced to rise against the Government, on the charge that the deaths said to be from cholera, were the result of poison put into the wells. The revolt was easily subdued by President CABRERA, after shooting some 18 or 20 of the conspirators and ringleaders. The cholera was disappearing from Guatemala.

The volcano of Izalco, in Sabrador, has lately been in a most active state.

HONDURAS.

There is no political, revolutionary, or other news from this Republic. In default of which I have translated from the Gaceta del Salvador, the following interesting article on the new transit project across Honduras:

"HONDURAS RAILROAD.—Since the United States acquired territorial dominion on the coasts of the Pacific, it has been a favorite idea with the great speculators of that nation, who seek heavy returns for their capital, to invest it in transit routes between the two great oceans. One Company undertook the construction of the Panama Railroad; another proposed a transit by steamers on the San Juan River and Lake of Nicaragua to Virgen Bay, and thence in wagons to San Juan del Sur. Both enterprises were carried into execution; and whether the one or the other has been the means of deep repentance to the owners of the territory which it crosses, is not the question on which we propose to treat in these few lines.

Another Company proposes to cross the Territory of the United States, starting from the Mississippi, and traversing the deserts of Nebraska, Utah and Oregon to California. Another Company is ready to cross the Isthmus of Tehuantepec, entering at the Coatzacoalcos River; and a fifth and last one is actually occupied in surveys to precede the building of a railroad, which shall traverse in its whole extent the territory of Honduras from Puerto-Cabellos to the Bay of Fonseca. We will say nothing of the dangers to Mexico and Honduras, or rather Central America, in these two last roads, but will confine ourselves to the propositions with which we set out.

Where are so many and such costly roads to lead? Who is to travel by them? Those who travel and do business between the South American Republics and Australia and the United States, it is probable, will prefer the Panama route as the most direct, and consequently the shortest and cheapest route. California travelers, it is to be presumed, will prefer, for equal reasons, the way of Tehuantepec, which will probably be in use before the Honduras road is built, as that undertaking has already means to carry on the work, whilst the time is very distant when the Honduras road will be able to obtain twenty-five or thirty millions of dollars, which it would cost, notwithstanding that Mr. SQUIER has estimated it at only ten millions, on which latter estimate the Company has commenced to expend money.

But suppose all these roads to be in full operation, and the product is divided by four, we would ask if even the many thousands of passengers they will transport will suffice to meet the costs and pay the interest of the capital? Tehuantepec and Panama, without doubt the most beneficial of these roads, will be the vehicles by which the United States will communicate and transport its merchandises to South America and California;—and admitting this, the other two, that is to say, the railroad of Honduras and the transit by Nicaragua, will only serve for Central America, and the time will pass away for them without any other occupation than the transportation of some thousands of packages of goods, and a few hundred passengers, which business would in no way satisfy the owners of the routes, but with which they would have to be content.

In such a state of things, the owners of the route will scarcely be content to lose the money, but will be likely to seek to remunerate themselves in other species of operations, less legitimate. Then will commence a new series of fillibusterism, of expropriations, and other excesses; for if the roads cannot attract passengers and goods, they will always serve for pretexts for armed interventions, to provoke difficulties, and raise reclamations. New-Granada is a mirror before our eyes; and surely it is time that the calumniated Indo-Spanish race should exercise a little more caution and wisdom.

At any rate, and as the road across Tehuantepec is un fait accompli, in our conception. It is certain that the transit across Honduras, as also that of Nicaragua, would be entirely superfluous, it confirms the common adage: "God can write straight over crooked lines"—(Dios hace renglones derechos con regla torcida.)

Breaking up of the Legislature by Rowdies—The Nicaraguan Transit Route—Fillibusters still at Punta Arenas—Trade on the Isthmus—Important Statistics—William Carey Jones in New-Granada—Murder of Chris. Lilly by Guatemalians—Large Failure—Miscellaneous News.

From Our Own Correspondent.

PANAMA, Wednesday, Oct. 21, 1857.

The Legislative Assembly of the State of Panama broke up in a row last Monday week. The only laws passed calculated materially to replenish the empty Treasury, were those taxing native tobacco and adding 40 per cent. to the amount of contributions assessed upon foreign merchants last year. It is quite doubtful, however, whether this last unjust measure will attain the object aimed at. Every additional dollar assessed upon the commerce of Panama must make the market higher and help to drive away the trade of the neighboring Republics which begins to be attracted to it. If Panama is to be made in any degree a dépôt for the supply of the South and Central American States and the west Coast of Mexico, as few restrictions as possible must be placed upon trade. It matters but little that the national Custom-House at Panama has been abolished, if the merchant is to be continually harassed by State constitutions instead.

The Legislature passed a very free and easy matrimonial law, which the Governor vetoed. Considering that he belongs to a class with whom illicit love is a good deal more in vogue than matrimony, he deserves the more credit for this act. He also vetoed a special privilege to a Franco-American resident to catch pearl oysters in the Bay of Panama by machinery. This was also right. But these two bills being put upon their passage over the objections of the Governor, gave rise to the row alluded to. Another speculating family here, who made the Governor, and consequently largely direct his movements, were afraid the Frenchman might get ahead of them in the oyster business—and so, under the pretext of putting down the immoral divorce law, they and their friends on Sunday evening met in special conclave, and organized a force of young rowdies, known here under the cognomen of "flexible," who were to pack themselves into the Legislative Chamber on the next day, and so intimidate the members that both laws should fall together. In the morning printed placards appeared on the corners of the principal streets as follows:

LEI DE MATRIMONIO!
LEI DE PRIVILEJIO!
Hoi se deciden las Objectiones!
A la barra juventud!

"Law of Matrimony! Law of Privileges! To-day the veto will be decided upon! To the rescue, young men!"

And the very moral young men of Panama, like Saints as they are, did rush to the rescue, and by threats, intimidations and siffings, broke up the Assembly—thus, at the same time accomplishing their purpose, and giving the most undeniable evidence of their fitness to live under a popular representative government. These young men afterwards formed themselves into a procession, and marched down to the Governor's house, where they made speeches at him, and he in turn congratulated them on their successful efforts in behalf of morality, and their high appreciation of the rights of a minority, and then gave each of them a tortilla and a drink of rum-chicha. It looked rather odd, however, to note in this procession quite a majority of its moral components who keep or are kept by the yellow syrens of the metropolis, the mistresses, also, of the little cigar and anisette shops in the Calles San Juan de Dios and Mercedes. The next night, the labors of the majority in the Legislature were closed, by a ball in the Governor's house, of rather a mixed character—showing, if the different shades in politics could not coalesce, that there was no difficulty about color when Terpsichore presided over the scene.

By my Central American letter, you will notice that the Webster-Harris Nicaragua grant has been annulled by the Government of Costa Rica, and that a Commissioner is on his way to Washington, and perhaps London, to treat for a free transit, and throwing open the line to general competition. Don NAPOLEON ESCALANTE, the commissioner, goes by this mail. Some three months since I wrote to you that "the Government of Costa Rica is inclined to open the route to general competition, exacting a dollar a head on passengers and a small tax on freight, to be divided between it and Nicaragua." And without doubt this is the programme of Señor ESCALANTE. As to who gets the property of the old transit company, valued at $400,000, is another question, and one that the Costa Rican Commissioner will find it not a little difficult to solve. There are four claimants for this property: first and foremost, VANDERBILT; second claimants, GARRISON & MORGAN, under the Walker-Rivas decree to RANDOLPH; third ditto, the present Government of Nicaragua; and fourthly, the Government of Costa Rica, which claims it for expenses incurred in the defence of Nicaragua, and by right of conquest and possession. This is an awful muddle. Señor ESCALANTE has got a world of work to do before he can reasonably expect to see the Nicaragua and California line of steamships again in operation. In the meantime, Costa Rica has got a little ahead this time of the astute Captain GARRISON. The Captain sent out the Tennessee in part payment for his grant, to bring home the three hundred fillibusters, the figures for which will be found on the wrong side of his ledger.

By the following list of names communicated to the Panama Star, it appears that 30 of WALKER'S men still remain at Panta Arenas in a destitute condition. The writer says, that "For some reason they have forfeited claim on the Costa Rican Government for protection. More than half of them appear to be Irish and English, although the majority are set down as American:

The trade across this Isthmus to Central America is likely soon to assume considerable importance. In the nine trips the Railroad Company's steamship Columbus has made between here and Central American ports, she has brought, principally for transportation across the Isthmus, over $700,000 worth of goods. She has likewise carried a fair amount of goods to these ports. The Panama shipments alone, during the nine months, have amounted to $149,000. To-morrow she takes up 200 tons of goods, about 180 tons of which are Central American orders to Europe, and which arrived at Aspinwall last year from Liverpool. For these figures I am indebted to WILLIAM NELSON, Esq., Commercial agent of the Panama Railroad Company, and who takes great interest in extending this trade.

The United States sloops-of-war John Adams and Decatur are still in port. Also, the Peruvian war-steamer Ituaras. There is no British war-ship, either, here, the Magicienne having sailed from here last week. The United States steam-frigate Wabash returned to Aspinwall on the 13th, after a cruise of seven days, in which she visited New and Old Providence Islands. The British line-of-battle ship, Brunswick, is at Aspinwall. The Wabash brought us the news that the Northern Light, with her 500 Californians, had been ashore on Providencia Viega.

There is not a single American war-ship between Cape Horn and Panama, notwithstanding our immence commerce in Peruvian waters. We ought to have four or five small steam-sloops, that can move quickly in an emergency, sweeping the whole Pacific coast, and alternating from Puget Sound to Talcahuano, in Chili.

Would it not be well for the State Department, in its official communications with the Government of New-Granada, to give the railroad terminus on the Atlantic its legal name? The new Consul to Colon is appointed in his commission to "Aspinwall." As there is no such port as Aspinwall in this Republic, it would not be surprising if the Government of Bogota should withhold Mr. FOX'S exequatur until it ascertains to what port the American Secretary of State meant to appoint him. The Government business with Brazil would likewise be accelerated if the Secretary of State would direct the Government Dispatch Agent at New-York to examine the map of the world before mailing his communications. I have noticed in the Consul's office here, on several occasions, official dispatches from Washington for Brazil. Seventy days from New-York to Brazil viâ the Isthmus, is as short a time as can be expected, while sailing vessels go from New-York to Rio in say 30 days, and by way of England 35 or 40 days will suffice.

WILLIAM CAREY JONES, it will be perceived, has left Costa Rica, and is now in Granada. TOM EDWARDS, charged with robbing him of $700 in San José, has been acquitted, the proofs not having been sufficient for a conviction. Notwithstanding TOM'S antecedents in Panama, Acapulco and Nicaragua, he was highly indignant at the charge of robbery preferred against him by his traveling companion and room-mate, and threatened Mr. JONES with a suit for libel. Mr. JONES, whose instructions in regard to the Central American Governments are all written on one sheet of paper, put the document, it is said, into the hands of President MORA, asking him to read only that part that concerned Costa Rica. The President replied that if he read any he must read the whole, as he was on the most intimate and confidential terms with the other four States, and Mr. JONES' mission was reported to concern them all. Mr. J. thereupon snatched the paper, telling President MORA that he should read nothing. The matters therein contained cannot be any great secret to anybody in Costa Rica, as EDWARDS, who pretends to have had access to Mr. JONES' trunk, is now blabbing them all over the country.

While I was in Nicaragua last Winter, I wrote you an account of the arrest of CHRIS. LILLY, and the confiscation of his little vessel loaded with coffee and cocoa by the fleet of Guatemala. It was stated some time after that LILLY had been released by the Guatemalian or Salvadorean Government. But many months having transpired without his having turned up, suspicion of foul play began to be entertained, and an inquiry was instituted, resulting in proof that he and his companion were most brutally murdered by the commander of the Guatemalian fleet. I have obtained the following official evidence of the murder:

CONSULAR AGENCY OF FRANCE,
LA UNION, Sept. 1, 1857.

Personally appeared before me at my office JOSE MARIA BARRERA, who, being sworn, deposed that he is a native of Acapulco, Mexico, and that his age is 23 years; that he had been employed on board the Guatemalian war brig Santiago, from the 19th of January up to the 11th June of the present year, as a mariner of the second class; that on the 16th day of February, he saw the American citizens CHRIS. LILLY and —— YATES shot in the hold of the aforesaid ship by order of the commander of the squadron, WM. KNORR, and that immediately after the vessel set sail to take in water. JOSE MARIA BARRERA.

Witnesses: VICENTE LATHOUR, WM. BROWN.

I, the undersigned, Consular Agent of France, certify that the foregoing signatures are genuine.

B. COURTAD.

CHRIS. LILLY was well known in New-York, New-Orleans, and particularly in California among the "fancy." He settled in San Francisco with his wife, in 1852, gaining his living by gambling, horse-racing and "sporting" generally. After a while he rented or bought a place on the San José road, a few miles out of San Francisco, called "The Abbey." Here he kept a few cattle, raised some garden stuff for market, entertained travelers and his brother sportsmen, gambled, and occasionally did a little ballot-box stuffing, when it would pay well. He was a rather quiet man, not often getting into rows—but last year, on the establishment of the San Francisco Vigilance Committeee, he became obnoxious to that body principally on account of his connection with the San Mateo election frauds, and in consequence, received an order from "33 Secretary" to quit the country. CHRIS. took passage, with his wife, to Nicaragua, and went immediately to Granada, where WALKER was then stationed. Here he established a monté bank, where he won about all the ready money of WALKER'S officers, besides some $50,000 in soldiers' land warrants. This field having been fully explored, he purchased a small vessel, with the intention of trading on the coast. He loaded his little craft with coffee in Costa Rica for San Juan del Sur, hoping to make a good speculation out of WALKER, who much needed the article. WALKER, however, had got so reduced in funds that he could pay but little cash, and CHRIS. only sold him about half his load, for which he got some money, some cacao, and the balance in promises. He then set sail for Manzanilla in Mexico, to dispose of his cacao and the balance of his coffee, but the strong north winds disabled his vessel, and he was obliged to put into Realejo. KNOTE happened to be at Realejo with his squadron, and advised LILLY to take his vessel to La Union for repairs, offering to tow him up to port, which offer LILLY, being afraid of arrest as a fillibuster at Realejo, accepted. On his arrival at La Union, KNOTE took LILLY on board, and put him in irons. He was seen in this condition on board the Santiago by an American gentleman, who interceded with KNOTE for his release. KNOTE replied that he would be glad to accede to his request, but he had orders from his Government to send him to the Capital. A couple of months subsequently, KNOTE informed the same gentleman that he had released LILLY. This proved to be false. By order of the Guatemalian Commander, LILLY and YATES were taken down into the hold while in irons, where a volley from five marines, commanded by a sergeant, was fired into them. LILLY fell dead at the first fire, but YATES, who was a very powerful man, was not immediately killed. In his agony he dashed his manacles at the head of his dead companion, and scattered his brains about the hold. YATES was finally dispatched, and then the vessel raised anchor and went out to sea, to sink the bodies. KNOTE sold the coffee for his own benefit, and likewise robbed LILLY of the $1,500 in cash he had with him. These murders were a long time kept secret, but are not now disputed by any one. No doubt KNOTE committed these murders for the sake of the spoils, as LILLY had no trial, and the Government, it is believed, were not even informed of the execution.

LILLY'S wife is in New-York. YATES was from Massachusetts. I have heard that his name was DAVID—but this is not known positively.

KNOTE calls himself an American. I understand he is a son of a former United States Consul at Malaga.

The Peruvian Commission to examine the British, French and American guano accounts of the Government agents go forward in this steamer.

In May, 1855, Mr. E. TRACEY, an American, was brutally murdered in his bed at Taboga by two or three negroes, and robbed of $500. The murderers were arrested, but were taken from the authorities by the American residents of the Island and the officers of some of the steamships and hung. Last week the friends of the lynchers petitioned to the Legislature for an amnesty law in their behalf, which was reported by a Committee, but was dropped without further action.

We had quite a smart shock of an earthquake at about 10 o'clock P. M. on the 15th. No damage was done. This is the third within the year.

STROBEL, about whose imprisonment Mr. WM. CAREY JONES, at San José, made a question with the Costa Rican Government, is now here. He is the same man who figured in the Crampton enlistment business.

From Bogota the news is without interest to American readers. Three of the States under the new federal system, Bolivia, Cundinimarca and Boyaca, have been organized, and have elected provisional Governors, viz.: JUAN ANTONIO CALVO, General CALVO, and PEDRO FERNANDEZ MADRID. General J. C. MOSQUERA, late of New-York, is said to be elected Governor of Cauca. Revolutionary movements in Ibaqué are spoken of, and the disturbances still continue in Mompos. Bogota is represented as politically quiet. OSPINA, the new President, has a powerful opposition to contend against, although it is generally believed he will be able to maintain his place during his legal term.

The commercial house of MONTOYA, LAENZ & Co., which has for a long time been one of the principal in Pogota, and large operators in the tobacco of Ambalema, has failed for $300,000. They profess to have assets to the amount of $600,000, which they have assigned for the benefit of the creditors.

OCT. 24.—To our great joy the Golden Age arrived this morning. She made the passage in twelve days and a half, having left San Francisco at 7 o'clock on the evening of Sunday, the 11th.

The American whaling-brig Sarah McFarland, which left here two weeks since for a whaling cruise in the Gulf of Fonseca, put back in a slightly damaged state, having taken a severe gale after leaving this Bay, and arrived here three days since.

The American schooner Henry arrived here yesterday, said to be 100 days from San Francisco. Probably she is the vessel that left that place a few months since to hunt for "buried money" in the Cocos Islands.

"The Most-Illustrious" FRANCIS N. BLANCHET, Archbishop of Oregon, who has been spending a couple of years in Chili, is here, on the way back to his charge.

Capt. ALLEN MCLANE, agent of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, was preparing the steamship California to take up the passengers of Oct. 20, from New-York, in case the down ship did not arrive. Capt. HOFF, of the John Adams, had detailed Lieut. COLLINS to command her—and Capt. THATCHER, of the Decatur sloop-of-war, had had all his spare hands at work the past two days in making mattresses for her. There can never be any detention here, from the fact that the Pacific Mail Company do their duty to the public in always keeping a spare ship on hand here.

I had the pleasure of meeting Col. FREMONT here this morning. He looks in excellent health.

Accident to the Star of the West.

ASPINWALL, Saturday, Oct. 24—Evening.

The Star of the West slightly touched on Carysfort Reef in coming out, but was promptly lightened of a few tons of coal, and came off without difficulty. This led to a report that Capt. GRAY threw over a large amount of freight. The facts are, as I learn from reliable authority, that the ship met with a heavy gale to the southward of Hatteras, when several seas washed over her. This caused so much distrust among the passengers of the safety of the ship, in view of the late awful disaster to the Central America, and complaints being made that she was overloaded, Capt. GRAY thought it prudent to take measures at once, not only for the safety of his ship, but to quiet the fears of the passengers. The freight thrown over, off Cape Hatteras, was 70 packages of mails and horse-shoes, shipped through FREEMAN & Co.'s Express, for account of the United States Government.

The passengers, on their arrival at Aspinwall, acknowledged the care and skill of Capt. GRAY, in count for the fact that the church held the deeds of 5,000 houses in the city of Mexico, last year, when COMONFORT began to poach upon its manor.

This tax at last began to weigh so heavily upon the house-owners of New-Granada that a relief from it became actually necessary. So when, some four years since, the Congress of Bogota decreed the separation of Church and State, and still further impoverished the priesthood by making marriage a mere civil institution, easing them of this monopoly, followed a law giving every property-holder the privilege of being relieved from his censo by paying into the Church one-third of the principal of his mortgage, when the interest was covenanted to be three per cent., and one-half when it was fixed at over that per centage. I believe the nation assumed the balance of the debt, which, of course, it never meant to pay.

These laws were so obnoxious to Rome that the Pope withdrew his Nuncio or agent, and New-Granada was left to poke along the best way it could in default of the customary prayers of His Holiness in her behalf. The Bishops were instructed to take their revenge; and they do it by denying Church privileges to every man who shall have the audacity to redeem his property from out their clutches. And they visit his sin in this respect upon his whole family.

Señor AMADOR had redeemed his property from the Church in accordance with this law. So his wife is denied Christian sepulture by the Priests; and, if their power reaches that height, St. Petcr will jingle the keys of Heaven in the face of Dona JUANA when she taps at its pearly gates for admittance into the angel chair. One Month Later from the South Pacific.

The Revolution in Peru—Arrests in Lima for the Murder of the British Minister—Earthquake in Ecuador—Another Revolution in Bolivia—New Ministry at Chili—Arrival of Governor Bigler at Valparaiso.

From our Own Correspondent.

PANAMA, Thursday, Oct. 22, 1857.

The British mail steamer New-Granada, with $204,000 in silver bars, arrived here on the 7th, and the Valparaiso arrived yesterday. The news is one month later. The dates are, Valparaiso, Oct. 1, and Lima, Oct. 12.

PERU.

The following private letter, from a well-informed source, embraces all matters of any great interest to the United States from Peru:

LIMA, Monday, Oct. 12, 1857.

Peru still enjoys her usual pastime of revolution and is likely to enjoy it for some time to come. On the 5th of the present month, CASTILLA was still encamped in the little town of Sochaca, a couple of miles from Arequipa, threatening to make an assault upon that stronghold, but it is quite doubtful if he attempts it. VIVANCO has added considerably to the natural strength of his position, and an assault upon the city would inevitably lose him a large part of his force, which is set down at some 5,000 men. VIVANCO occasionally orders a few sorties, which do not come to much. He seems well content to stay where he is, believing he would not be in the same safe condition outside his fortifications. On the 3d, the Government steamer Tumbes disembarked a park of artillery in the little port of Ilo, and now it is again said that CASTILLA will attack Arequipa as soon as it arrives. A good deal of sickness prevails in the President's camp, 500 men being in hospital, and I think it full as likely he will raise the seige as that he will sacrifice his men by sickness and in an unsuccessful attack. VIVANCO still retains his steam frigate Apurimac at Islay, in order to keep up a partial communication between the coast and himself. Speculators in guano, Chilian speculators particularly, are hoping that VIVANCO will send his frigate to the Chinchas, and again take possession. He will doubtless do so, if he can in any way manage to spare her from Islay, now that the French Protectorate of the Islands has fallen through. VIVANCO is without money, as some intercepted letters of his prove, and the proceeds of a few cargoes of guano would be a godsend to him just at this time. The intercepted letters show that VIVANCO is making an effort to "raise the wind," through one SARTORI, who calls himself a North American, by paper vales to the amount of $100,000, to be negotiated in Valparaiso, probably on guano promises to pay.

Other portions of Peru remain quiet. An attempt against the Government was made at Tacna, the latter part of last month, but was not successful. Some trifling disturbances have also taken place at Piura.

In the capital we have nothing of interest, unless it be the arrest of JOSE FELIX DIAZ DE VIVOLA, an accomplice in the assassination of the British Chargé Mr. SULLIVAN. DIAS has made a confession to the police, in which he charges that JUAN SERRE, a Frenchman, and one of the most desperate men on the coast, is the principal. SERRE has not yet been taken, but the police are on his track. The trial of these men, were it to take place in the United States would elicit many startling fashionable liasons—for but few entertain any doubts that the assassination was the fruit of female intrigue. But here, in Lima, where an Ambassador or a Chargé is concerned, it is not likely that all the facts elicited will be spread before the public.

The guano statistics for the month of September show that 39,366 tons register have been shipped to England, 7,281 tons to the United States, and 5,000 tons to France and her colonies.

The Government has advertised for an agent for the sale of guano in the United States, in place of BARREDA, Brothers.

In addition to the foregoing I get nothing of interest from Peru save the following:

The Police of Lima have arrested a man named, or calling himself, LINDO, charged with being concerned in extensive schemes of robbery and forgery. Some thirty letters were found on him, indicating that he is one of an extensive company, having its ramifications in South and Central America, Havana, and New-York. The company appears to be regularly organized, with secretaries, treasurers, directors and other officials. LINDO's father, who is in New-York, is the head of the concern. LINDO formerly lived in Panama, and was clerk in 1851 to LOUIS BAYARD, a merchant there.

ECUADOR.

Dates from Quito are to the 17th September and from Guayaquil to the 2d October. Congress is in cession at Quito. El Artesano says: "Five diamonds ornament the glorious crown that encircles the head of the Robles administration, viz.: The absolute freedom of the Press; the direct election of public officers by the people; abolition of capital punishment; discentralization of the departments; formal and vigorous establishment of national guards."

In the city of Loja there has been a terrible earthquake, demolishing houses and churches. The shock was felt in Quito and other places.

BOLIVIA.

In Bolivia another revolution is under a full head of steam, Dr. LINARES being the chief engineer. Oruro, La Paz, Cochahamba and Chuquisaca have "pronounced." CORDOVA, the President, has marched upon La Paz with 1,500 men, scattering proclamations before him, threatening all with death who shall in any manner cooperate in the revolution. In La Paz the authorities, on the rising having sought refuge in the house of the United States Minister-Resident, Mr. DANA, were taken out by force. BELZU, late President of Bolivia and father-in-law of CORDOVA, was absent, but was daily expected, when it was hoped by some that the revolution would be stifled. But in this they will probably be mistaken. Gen. PEREZ entered La Paz at the head of 600 men on the 22d September, amidst bell-ringing, huzzas, the women strewing flowers in his path. He immediately organized his Government, and dictated a decree, condemning CORDOVA and all his friends who should make war on the "sovereign people," to death. It appears that after LINARES occupied Oruro, a reaction took place, when he evacuated the place and marched south with 1,700 men. As the whole South has risen against CORDOVA, it does not appear likely that any fighting will take place, but it is almost certain that he will have to "pull up stakes" and quit the country. Up to 30th September nobody had been killed, although some old women were badly scared.

Within the past six months more than 60,000 of the Indians of Bolivia have died from yellow fever.

CHILI.

In Chili President MONTT had finally succumbed to the wishes and demands of the people, and the storm had blown over. After refusing to accede to the conditions of Señor URMENETA, who was charged to form a cabinet, he recalled him, and placed all the portfolios at his disposal. URMENETA made Señor SALVADOR SANFUENTES, Minister of Justice, FRANCISCO BOJA SOLAR, Minister of Finance, and Gen. MANUEL GARCIA, Minister of War and Marine. All belong to the moderate Liberal Party, and will accede to its doctrines, "having in view the conciliation of all parties and the progress of our institutions." The President found it necessary to amplify the amnesty he had formerly opposed, and on the 19th September promulgated a decree extending pardon to and allowing to return all those who are absent from the country, or are or may be indicted on account of the political events of 1851.

On the 18th, the 47th anniversary of Chilian independence was everywhere celebrated with great enthusiasm. Balls, parades, excursions, inaugurations, rockets, Roman candles and Chinese crackers were the order of the day and night. In the evening the light from the new light-house at Valparaiso shone forth, and was seen by the British frigate Braganza at the distance of 20 miles. The new Santiago Theatre and 12 miles of the Northern railroad were opened on the anniversary.

I cannot forbear to encroach a little on your space by translating, from El Mercurio, the following account of the great ball given in the splendid new opera-house at Santiago, on the occasion of the forty-seventh anniversary of Chilian independence. It will be especially interesting to you lady readers. Crinoline appears to have suffered some in the jam.

"The floor of the opera-house presented in the evening an imposing sight. The luxury was extraordinary, and the confusion was still more extraordinary. Here was united all the most elegant and fashionable society of Santiago. It is impossible, in a single salon, however spacious it may be, to accommodate the society of the metropolis without detracting from its splendor, to say nothing about the squeezings and the crash of crinoline. It is necessary that we should adopt the European style, and have two or three great salons for the use of the company. Nothing can be less diverting to our society than this class of amusement, with such discomforts as attended the ball at Santiago.

"All the ladies were dressed with the most exquisite taste and elegance, and it was a misfortune, a great misfortune for them that they had not space in which to show off their charms. Among the dresses most remarked for their elegance, may be mentioned those of white gauze, trimmed with red and green flowers, and another of white silk, with flounces fringed with blue feathers. This last was admired by all. It perfectly became the beautiful young lady, with her tall, svelte figure, and gracious and seductive air, who wore it. Our attention was also attracted to a rose of brilliants that rested on the bosom of a young bride, matched by a comb of the same precious stones, that could not add lustre to her shining hair. The young lady was very beautiful, but she was so brilliant with jewels as almost to obscure her lovely face.

In the immense confusion which reigned, it was almost impossible to dance, from the necessity every instant of asking pardon from your partner, or the señorita near her, in each figure of the quadrille, or at each whirl of the waltz, for having trodden on and torn her robe. Notwithstanding, the dance was kept up all the night—or, rather, not a moment passed without wrecking the beautiful dresses of the ladies.

The refreshment-room, furnished by the ladies, was extremely incommodious from its diminutive size, the difficulty of getting into it, and from its improper situation. There was scarcely room for the ladies, and the young men deputed to attend upon them only took care of their especial friends, and passed a glass of ice-cream or a cup of warm tea to those for whom they had no particular predilection. The managers of the ball should have commissioned attentive, amiable young men, of fine manners and education, for this service, for the commission is a very delicate one, and not at all fitted for persons lacking in address and urbanity.

The refreshment-room for gentlemen was prepared with great profusion, and, as here every one waited upon himself, no one had occasion to complain. The liquors were in abundance, and of excellent quality.

The orchestra was composed of the best musicians that could be found in Santiago, and there was also a band of military music that played in the intervals of the dances. The dancing lasted till 5 o'clock. The salon was well lighted, but the odor of the gas was complained of a little.

During the ball the rain fell in torrents, so that the señoritas suffered a little, on leaving the hall, from the confusion of the carriages and the mud on the entrances. In general, the ball gave satisfaction, no complaint being made except on account of the narrowness of the accommodations. With double or treble the space, there could have been nothing to desire, and the pleasing recollections of the scene would have been very lasting on the society of Santiago. But as it was, there could have been nothing more beautiful, more interesting, or more animated.

On other occasions, we have criticised the use of precious stones by young ladies, who think thus to make their attractions greater. On this occasion, we must do them justice, for the majority were only adorned with flowers. Flowers, it is acknowledged by all, are the most beautiful brilliants with which a young lady can adorn herself, and the best interpreters of grace and sentiment."

The question of the seizure of the American ship Sportsman, of Boston, was still pending. You will recollect that the Chilian man-of-war Esmeralda took possession of this vessel on the ground that she had no license to load in one of the lesser ports of the Republic, and which port is also claimed by Bolivia. The ship was taken into Caldera, when the captain refused to receive her, but hauled down her flag and abandoned her to the Chilian Government. Count DE NOLLERT, the French Consul in Cobija, the United States agents, and a Chilian company, have presented their claims for damages, but nothing has yet been decided on in the case. The captain claims $150,000 damages and $100 a day for his vessel. NOLLENT claims as much more, and Señor VIDELA, for the Chilian company, wants $40,000.

JOHN BIGLER, United States Minister to Chili, arrived at Valparaiso from San Francisco on the 20th Sept. in the ship Red Rover. Gov. BIGLER was introduced to the Chilian public by the Mercurio, on his arrival, by the following extract from the Spanish paper at San Francisco, the Eco del Pacifico:

"We are certain that in Chili Mr. BIGLER will learn some lessons in diplomatic courtesy which he so much needed when he was Governor of this State. The Government of that Republic will not receive his communications with that contemptuous silence with which a year or two ago he received those of Señor MARTIN, Consul of Chili. He will find no rascals there who lynch Americans, nor authorities who are accomplices in those crimes. Consequently the Government of Chili will not be obliged to be silent when he makes diplomatic representations to it."

Mr. WILLIAMS, a naval officer of the Chilian revolution, had died.

Business was still dull, owing to the scarcity of coin and the high price of native produce. Agricultural prospects were bad. The weather had been too dry. Some retail merchants having taken advantage of the mercantile distress, "pretending to have suffered losses in order to obtain concessions from creditors," a meeting of the principal merchants was called, at which it was resolved to grant no concessions, without the previous examination of a Committee; the infraction of this rule to be liable to a fine of $5,000 to be paid to the hospitals. Flour was worth $5 50 per quintal, cash; South Carolina rice, $7 per quintal. American fine lumber was selling at from $37 to $50. Three cargoes from Puget Sound and California remained unsold. California Barley at $2 58 per quintal. Saltpetre in Iguique, $2 75 cash and short credit; pure Silver bars, $10 62 for marc; silver coin 2 per cent. premium. Freights from coast to England, £3 10s. to £3 12s. Ship Marianna was loading copper regulus at Caldera, and nitrate at Iguique at $17 50 per ton.

ADDITIONAL FROM CALIFORNIA.

Summary of News.

From the Alta California, Oct. 11.

Owing to the return of the Golden Gate, which left this port on the 5th inst., we are enabled to forward by the Golden Age, which leaves to-day, a week's later news than that which appears in our regular semi-monthly issue.

On the night of the 6th, when 350 miles below Monterey, the centre shaft of the steamer was broken, and but half a revolution was made before the vessel stopped. The damage was sufficiently repaired by the next afternoon to enable the steamer to work her way hither with the aid of one wheel and sails. The officers, by their skillful management and attention to their duties, won the favorable consideration of the passengers who held a meeting and passed complimentary resolutions, which will be found elsewhere in this issue. The Gate reached here safely on the morning of the 10th.

At daylight of the 6th, rain commenced falling, and until the 9th, showers at intervals visited all parts of the State; more copiously in the interior than in this city. As is well known many of our mining population are at this season hard at work in the beds of the streams, and it was feared that the recent rapid rise of water would sweep away their dams and flumes, and seriously injure their works, if not destroy them entirely. But, so far as we have learned, comparatively little harm has been done by the rain, and, as it is again clear, the probabilities are that these industrious sons of toil will yet be enabled to exhaust their claims of the treasure which they contain. Other branches of mining are being prospected as successfully as usual.

It is stated that Col. JOHN C. FREMONT has purchased the Merced and Mariposa Canal for the sum of $25,000, and goes East for the purpose of procuring sufficient capital to push the enterprise to completion.

Six more prisoners have made their escape from the State Penitentiary, and have not up to the present been recaptured.

The Stockton Artesian well has been bored to a depth of 923 feet, and although a considerable stream rises to the surface, the work is to be continued.

JOHN B. YOUNT, a trader in El Dorado County, was shot on the 5th by an Irishman named GRAHAM. The wound was mortal.

The Fall races throughout the State are exciting unusual interest. The attendance is generally good, betting spirited, and time made by the contesting nags excellent.

Governor JOHNSON has issued his proclamation, in which he states that the requisite number of votes having been cast, the people are obliged to pay the debt.

The United States steamer Active, Capt. CUYLER, arrived here from Puget Sound on the 8th.

The war between the Clatsop and Clallum tribes of Indians rages more fiercely than ever. The whites were unmolested. The boundary surveying expedition had done little as yet, but are awaiting the arrival of the British vessel Plumper, one of the survey ships.

The Mormon Exodus from Carson Valley.

Correspondence of the Democratic State Journal.

GENOA, CARSON VALLEY, Thursday, Oct. 1, 1857.

EDITOR JOURNAL: From a visit to the Mormon camp, on the 26th ult., the day of their moving on their journey to Salt Lake City, we are able to furnish you with the following summary of facts: Through the courtesy of Mr. HAMILTON, commissary of the train, we learned that the company consists of 985 souls—350 men, and the balance women and children—having in their possession 710 head of live stock, consisting principally of hores, mules and oxen, and 148 wagons, the estimate value of which, together with goods and money, amounts to $193,100, of which $25,000 is cash, in the hands of the individuals. The train is divided into three divisions, of fifties, commanded by Judge LOVELAND, Capt. LYTLE and Capt. ——, which divisions are subdivided into tens, each having a captain or commander. It is the intention to travel in separate divisions, to afford sufficient feed for the stock, until they reach the seat of Indian difficulties, on the Humboldt, when they will move together en masse, to insure protection from attacks by the hostile Indians, who have been so troublesome to the emigration during the present season.

The train left camp in Eagle Valley about 10 o'clock on Saturday, the 25th ult., and traveled to the Carson River, a few miles below the mouth of Gold Cañon, where orders were given by the leaders not to move until satisfactory settlements were made between the Mormons leaving and the Gentiles with whom they had dealings; and it is a fact, worthy of especial notice, that, with the exception of one or two instances, the Mormons paid their debts and fulfilled their contracts with credit to themselves, individually and fraternally. Much is due Judge LOVELAND and other gentlemanly conductors of the train, in bringing about this result, by their known integrity, impartiality and firmness. The adjustment of accounts, where differences arose, in the absence of law, was left to arbiters and satisfactorily settled. One exception, worthy of note, came under our notice, in a settlement between Col. REESE and one MERKLEY—who, by the way, did not leave a very enviable name behind him for truth and honesty. To avoid paying an honest debt, MERKLEY endeavored to raise a "muss" with the Colonel, and drive him out of camp, but the ruse would not win. While the Colonel was sitting on the ground, with his books on his knees, MERKLEY struck and kicked him, for which cowardly assault he was severely reprimanded by Judge LOVELAND, and compelled, much against his will, to "fork" over the amount due.

The only incidents worthy of note that occurred during our stay in "camp," was the birth of a child, weighing 11½ pounds, and the breaking of a Mr. THOMPSON's leg by jumping out of a wagon. Mr. THOMPSON is a very estimable gentleman, formerly a resident of Washo Valley. Although badly hurt, every attention was shown him that the circumstances under which the accident happened could afford.

The Mormons go stocked with provisions, ammunition, &c., calculated to last them a year. Their destination is Salmon River, in Washington Territory, where they intend forming a settlement, extending north into the Russian Possessions. Their leaving so suddenly has been sensibly felt by traders in the valleys, but their places are being filled up by honest and industrious emigrants, who are suttling here to make it their future home. Many of the Mormon homesteads have been purchased at low rates by speculators, and in our opinion there will never be a better opportunity afforded those who wish to procure good stock and agricultural farms in this region of country than at present. Emigrants are stopping their stock here for the Winter in great numbers, and they are doing remarkably well. Stock keeps in good condition on the range during the Winter season without any attention whatever.

From the Sacramento Union.

PLACERVILLE, Sunday, Oct. 4—4 P. M.

JOHN J. WALKER, from Arkansas, arrived Oct. 2, at Genoa. He reports that ABBOTT and KIRBY, members of his company, were killed by Indians near Goose Creek; two ABBOTTS were wounded, and they lost 20 head of stock. At the same time they passed the Mormon train just going on the Forty-Mile Desert, getting along well.

A large number of horses and mules have been missing since the exit of the Mormons. Parties have gone in chase on the track of the Mormons.

A trading post at Gold Cañon, kept by ATCHISON, was burned, with its contents, and but for the timely aid of some Pinto Indians, the clerk would have been burned up, being asleep when the Indians discovered the house in flames, and rescued him.

Uncle BILLY RODGERS is en route to Sacramento with petitions to Gov. JOHNSON for aid.

Latest San Francisco Markets.

From the Alta California, Oct. 10.

SATURDAY EVENING, Oct. 10.

This has been a very quiet day, and, with respect to all departments of trade, very little of a favorable nature can be reported. Saturday, however, is always a quiet day with us, and, with the moderate amount of jobbing trade that is doing at present, it may be supposed that the operations previously reported during the week were sufficient for the time being.

The accident which occurred on board the mail steamer, necessitating her return, of course will result in a week's later dates being forwarded hence to-morrow, but we do not see that any improvement on previous advices can be reported.

In Provisions, to-day, no sales of any moment at all have been reported. There is an evident better feeling for Butter, and a brisk inquiry is noted, together with some sales. Other descriptions, such as Meats, Lard, &c., are quiet. In general groceries there have been some sales of Teas, and a few lots of raw Sugars, but no large parcels of either article have changed hands. There is no further movement in Coffee.

We learn that the fine clipper-ship Adelaide, Captain WAKEMAN, was chartered by Messrs. MOORE & FOLGER, day before yesterday, for New-York, on terms not transpired. She will succeed the Flying Dutchman, now on the berth for the port named.

Later from Havana.

ARRIVAL OF THE CAHAWBA.

The United States mail steamer Cahawba, J. D. BULLOCK, Commander, from New Orleans via Havana, having left the latter port on the 30th ult., arrived at this port yesterday morning.

There is nothing new at Havana. It is reported that several loads of Africans had been landed.

Exchange arbitrary according to quantity, necessity, &c. New-York, 3 premium; London, 9 do.

The health of Havana is now very good.

On the 30th, off the Moro, the Cahawba passed schooner Col. Lester, of New-London, which had lost her jib-boom.

Arrival of the City of Baltimore.

The screw steamship City of Baltimore, Capt. LEITCH, from Liverpool at noon on Wednesday the 21st of October, arrived at this port yesterday morning. Her advices have been anticipated by the arrival of the Arago on Tuesday.

NEW-YORK LIVE STOCK MARKET.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, Nov. 4, 1857.

The principal Market Places are the WASHINGTON DROVE-YARDS, 44TH-STREET; BROWNING'S, on Sixth-street; CHAMBERLIN'S, on Robinson-street; and O'BRIEN'S, on Sixth-street. Our reports refer to these regular markets. Irregular sales are sometimes made at Bergen Hill, N. J., and from the Hudson River Boats.

The great sales day at the Washington Yards is on WEDNESDAY of each week. The reports from all the yards are made up for the preceding week to the evening of that day.

Cattle	1,287	Horses	2
Sheep	3,029	Lambs	43
Hogs	3,490	Calves	87

Ohio	467	Massachusetts	—
New-York	1304	Pennsylvania	—
Illinois	409	Texas	—
Kentucky	230	Connecticut	28
Indiana	195	Michigan	—
Virginia	—	New-Jersey	87
Iowa	—	Cherokee Nation	—

Stock received at Hudson River drove yards at the foot of Thirty-seventh-street, North River, for the week ending Wednesday, Oct. 21, 4,813 Hogs, 193 Sheep.

Beeves are sold by the estimated dead weight of the four quarters; the so-c[illegible]"fifth quarter" (hide and tallow) is not reckoned in here as it is in Boston and some other cities. When cattle are weighed or estimated alive, the dead weight is reckoned at a certain number of pounds to the 100 lbs. of live weight, as agreed upon. The general rule in this market for medium cattle is 56 lbs. to the 100; 44 lbs. being allowed for the "fifth quarter" and offal.

The average prices to-day, as compared with last week, are about ½c.@¾c. lower.

We quote:

PRICES OF BEEF AT FORTY-FOURTH-STREET.

	To-day.	Last Week.
Premium Cattle	none.	none.
First quality	10c. @10½c.	10c.—@11c.
Medium quality	8c. @ 9c.	9c. @ 9½c.
Poor quality	7c. @ 7½c.	7½c.@ 8½c.
Poorest quality	6c. @ 7c.	6½c.@ 7c.
General selling prices	7c. @ 9c.	8c. @ 9½c.
Average of all sales	8c. @—	8½c.@ 8¾c.

REMARKS ON THE BEEF MARKET.

The small advance and the better feeling exhibited in the markets last week stimulated the owners of stock near by to hurry in large numbers of animals. We find that nearly or quite one-half of all the cattle offered to-day were from New-York State. Another cause contributed to increase the receipts, viz: the announcement of a higher tariff upon the railroads, to take effect upon all cattle started after November 1. Those having stock ready at the West hurried them along to take advantage of the old rates of freight. These combined causes brought in 3,433 bullocks to the various City markets during the week, and of course produced an over supply.... The fact is, people are not consuming two-thirds the amount of meat they did at this time last year. A proof of this is found in the comparison of the sales for the month of October, 1856, with those of the month just passed Thus, in October, 1856, there were sold here 18,720 beef cattle, and for October, 1857, only 13,118, a falling off of 5,602, and yet the supply this year bore about the same ratio to the demand of last year.... As might be expected from their source, the stock on sale to-day was a decided improvement upon last week, though the difference in the weather made the apparent variation greater than the reality. Last week the cattle had been drenched in a three or four days' rain, while for the past three or four days the weather has been very fine..... There were, however, a considerable sprinkling of poor cattle on sale, or offered to be nearly given away, to-day, and at least 250 of these did not find purchasers at any price..... We put the average of all sales to-day at ½c.@¾c. ℔ lb. net, below last week. The real decline was lower than this, if we take into account the better quality of the Stock, and the lower estimate of weights allowed by buyers. We saw a lot of 42 thinnish bullocks sold at $45 each, which we could not estimate at much, if anything, over 7c. ℔ lb. for the dressed carcasses, and there were many sales at but little better rates than this. There were sales of scalawags at 6c. and under..... The truth is this market does not now demand over about 2,500 to 2,700 cattle weekly, and when the supply exceeds this prices will necessarily sink to low figures. It seemed to be the general opinion all round, that to-day' rates are about as high as they will average for some time to come, though it will take a few weeks for owners to bring down their views to the idea of getting 9c. ℔ lb. for cattle, selling at 12c.@13c. not six months ago. We would hold out better hopes to farmers if we could, but the plain truth may as well be told first as last. There is one fact not to be overlooked, viz.: that cattle are still higher, relatively at 8c. than wheat at 80c., since when the former were 12c. the latter was $1 50@$2.... About 450 cattle were sent from Albany this week..... There is much complaint among Western men of the great advance in freight agreed upon by the several railroads. This advance equals $55 ℔ car from Chicago to Buffalo, and $10 ℔ car from Buffalo here, which is nearly equivalent to $5 ℔ head on every animal brought through. Half of this advance would have been submitted to cheerfully, but as it is there is loud murmuring, and efforts are being made to effect a combination among drovers to, in some way, break down the railroad combination.

J. T. ALEXANDER contributed 113 Illinois Cattle, weighing 1,425 lbs. gross at home. They were common to medium grades, bringing 7c.@9c. One lot of 45 sold for $52 ℔ head, or about 7¼c. S. ULERY, salesman.

H. P. BEACH forwarded one of the finest large lots which were on sale to-day, consisting of 80 fine Durham grades from Madison County, Ohio. T. WHITE & SON were getting 9c.@10c. for them. Home weight, 1,681 lbs.

CALDWELL & Co.'s 48 Indiana Steers were running out by ALLERTON & MYERS at 8c.@9¾c. They are of average quality, rated 650 lbs.

MEAD & HOLCOMB were trying to sell 23 of their own Westchester County cattle at 9c.@10c. Eighteen of them rated 875 lbs. net, probably brought near those figures. They were very good cattle. J. MACK, 33 common Ohio cattle were bringing 8c.@9c. by the same parties. Estimated 650 lbs. net.

MILLER, HARING & GURNEY, sold at Bergen 810 mixed cattle, at prices ranging from 7¾c.@10c. ℔ lb.—very few at the latter price. They were selling here to-day 60 New-York cattle for different owners, at 8c.@9¾c.

R. MARQUART contributed 38 light, thin, Illinois steers, which BUDLONG & EASTMAN were working off at about 8c. The same parties were selling 49 Ohio cattle for N. T. PAULDING, at 8½c.@8¾c. These were good 700 lb. cattle.

L. BEERS sold 28 of his Connecticut cattle, at about 9¼c. They were of fair to good quality. One pair of extras brought fully 10½c.

R. MURRAY was getting 9c.@10½c. for his 63 fine New-Jersey cattle, rated 700 lbs.

J. BROOKS had 22 fair steers from Livingston County, N. Y., which E. H. SHEPARD was getting 8½c.@9c. for on an estimate of 600 lbs. net.

M. H. PARKER had 80 Kentucky cattle on sale by ALLERTON & CONGER. They were of medium quality, rated 700 lbs., and were bringing 8c.@9c. A few of the best were sold for near 10c.

J. MCCULLESS, 34 common Indiana steers were being sold by ALLERTON & CONGER at 7½c.@9c. Estimated 600 lbs. net.

W. H. HUTCHINSON forwarded 52 medium cattle from Henderson County, Ill. Home weight, 1,300 lbs. W. W. HOAG was selling them for 8c.@9c. Twenty of the best brought $63 each, or a little over 9c.

MILCH COWS WITH CALVES.

Milch Cows are sold at each of the above yards, usually with their Calves at their sides. The prices vary somewhat with the supply and demand, and vary greatly, of course, upon the milking value. The particular fancy of the buyer has also considerable to do with the price. Not unfrequently a Cow is sold at $90@$100, or even $120. The general price throughout the year for ordinary Cows is $30 to $40 or $50. Quite a number sell above $50, and more, perhaps, below $30. We often see apologies for Cows go at $20@$25. The weekly reports from the different yards will give the weekly fluctuations.

This market has undergone very little change during the week.

ALLERTON reports receipts of 15 fresh cows during the week, selling at $25@$30 for common, $35@$45 for good and $50@$60 for extras. Receipts have been small, but quite sufficient for the very limited demand.

BROWNING reports receipts of 50 Milch Cows, selling at $25@$30 for common; $30@$40 for good, and $50@$65 for extras. The market is abundantly supplied, with a dull demand.

CHAMBERLIN reports 49 Milch Cows, selling at $25@$35 for common; $40@$50 for good; and $50@$60 for extras. Very little change in price during the week, but the market is slow.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The returns of the election in this State come in slowly. The result in 42 Counties—all yet heard from—gives the Democrats a majority of 12,445 on the State ticket. We publish elsewhere a table of majorities by Counties and lists of Senators and Members of Assembly elected.

In Massachusetts, Mr. BANKS has a plurality of nearly 24,000. Twelve towns are to be heard from. The majority of the Republicans in the Legislature is heavy. The general vote, however, shows a large falling off since 1856.

The New-Jersey election has resulted in the success of the Democrats. The Legislature will be Democratic by a decided majorty on joint ballot.

The Maryland election, it is thought, has gone for the Americans by an increase on the vote cast for Mr. FILLMORE at the last Presidential election. In Baltimore the day was characterized by considerable rioting and bloodshed, though not so much as was anticipated. Several persons were shot, some of them fatally, and a great number of naturalized voters were driven from the polls.

By the arrival of the Cunard steamship Canada at Halifax we receive three days' later news from Europe. No political intelligence of importance is reported. The Canada has brought a million of dollars in specie. It is stated that monetary affairs in London were more satisfactory, and that the pressure there had considerably abated. This relief from the fact that there had been no arrival from the United States since the departure of the Arago, and our general Bank suspension was consequently not yet known. We shall only learn the effect of that event by the Arabia, due at this port on Wednesday next. No later news had been received in England from India.

The steamship Star of the West arrived at this port yesterday from Aspinwall, bringing nearly a million and a half in treasure, and California advices to Oct. 11. The latter have been anticipated by the previous arrival of the Quaker City, which connected with the Star of the West at Havana. Our correspondent sends us very important news from Central America. Costa Rica, it seems, has seized and blockaded the San Juan River, and prohibits Nicaraguan vessels from pasing up or down. An official proclamation of this act has been already promulgated. Five hundred Costa Rican troops were about to take possession of Fort Castillo. The Webster Grant has been annulled, and our correspondent, who sends us a most interesting communication on the subject, states that there is still another company in the field for the transit.

There is nothing of political importance from New-Granada, though the letters of our Panama correspondent, published elsewhere, will be found to contain a variety of interesting miscellaneous intelligence. By two arrivals at Panama, we receive a month's later news from the South Pacific. The Revolution in Peru remained still undecided. There had been another revolution in Bolivia, under the leadership of LINARES. The hostile armies of Bolivia were marching and countermarching, without any apparent practical result, but to the great terror of old women and very young children. The storm has blown over in Chili, and a new Cabinet has been formed. Governor BIGLER, our new Minister to this Republic, has arrived in Valparaiso. The question of the seizure of the American ship Sportsman, of Boston, is still pending.

A shooting affair occurred in Philadelphia yesterday, in the parlor of the St. Lawrence Hotel in which RICHARD CARTER, President of the Anthracite Bank of Tamaqua was killed by THOS. WASHINGTON SMITH, of Maryland. CARTER had accused SMITH of the seduction of a ward, and SMITH, on the other hand, alleges that he married the girl, and that he subsequently ascertained that she had been CARTER'S mistress.

The General Produce Markets, yesterday, were active for the leading kind of Breadstuffs. Flour partially advanced 5c. ₱ barrel; while Wheat and Corn slightly favored buyers. The Hudson River boats brought down, during the twenty-four hours ending at noon, 16,778 barrels Flour; 63,528 bushels Wheat, and 10,646 bushels Corn. Cotton was gradually improving. Provisions were dull and heavy. There was more animation in groceries, especially Sugars. Nothing really new occurred in other commodities. The number of vessels in port was 756 of all classes.

The Cattle Markets were largely over-supplied yesterday, and though the general quality of the stock was an improvement over last week, prices fell off ½c.@¾c. ₱ lb. for the dressedmeat. The receipts for the week were 3,433, which, though a little less than the week's average of last year, is still some 600 or 700 more than the present weekly requirement of the City. The yards were not cleared at sundown, some 250 being left over.

The Grand Jury for the November term was impanneled in the Court of General Sessions yesterday. ANNE MURPHY, charged with murdering her husband's child by another wife, was discharged on her own recognizance, there not being sufficient proof that she really perpetrated the crime. THOMAS RAGAN was convicted of forgery in the second degree, and remanded for sentence.

The Board of Education last evening decided to appoint a Committee on Printing, and that the books, journals and documents of the Board be printed hereafter by contract. The Finance Committee submitted a report, setting forth the annual estimate for the support of the School system for the ensuing year. The total amount was apportioned as follows:

Salaries of Teachers and Janitors	$569,000
Incidental Expenses	80,000
Pianos for Primary Schools	9,000
Free Academy	48,000
Repairing and Cleaning Academy Building	3,000
Normal Schools	15,000
Corporate Schools	20,000
Evening Schools	48,000
For Repairs through the Shop	10,000
Rent of School Premises	12,000
Stationery and Supplies	85,000
Warming and Ventilation of School Build's	5,000
For New Schools	131,000
New School Furniture	15,000
Salaries of Superintendents, Clerks, &c	24,000
Incidental Expenses, Printing, etc	12,000
Due from the City Sinking Fund for Receipts of Sale of James-street School Premises in the Fourth Ward	33,000

The total amount is $1,126,012, or $25,000 more than the expenditures of last year.

The Academy of Medicine had its November meeting last night. Dr. VAN BUREN read a report on Dr. SQUIBB'S paper on chloroform, which asserted substantially that an article of chloroform is manufactured in Williamsburg not at all inferior to the best made in Europe. Dr. JANES, from the Committee on Materia Medica, reported in terms of glowing admiration of Borden's Concentrated Milk. The Secretary having announced a sealed parcel indorsed (as the bye-laws required) "A charge against a Fellow," which, under the rules, goes unopened to the Committee on Ethics, Dr. MOTT, the President, observed that if it should refer to him it must only refer to his alleged sanction of an advertisement of one HAMMOND; and he would remark that he had requested the person named to withdraw his (Dr. MOTT'S) name from that advertisement, and moreover had sent a legal gentleman to him to compel its suppression. Dr. GARRISH presented a carcinomatous liver weighing 8 pounds, from a patient who died aged 61 years. Dr. BARGE read a paper on his improved splint. Dr. ROTTON read a compiled paper, and exhibited some of the coca plant so generally chewed by the Peruvian Indians. The Fellows took a chew all around, but exhibited none of the effects named in the paper, probably for the lack of the quicklime with which the aborigines take it.

The argument on the question as to the propriety of granting Mrs. CAROLINE WOODMAN a release from her confinement in Sandford Hall, a private lunatic asylum in Flushing, on the application by Mr. FURNESS for a writ of Habeas Corpus, was resumed yesterday before Judge ROOSEVELT. After vast expenditure of argument a traverse to the return of Mr. MCDONLD was received, and an offer was made by Mr. BRADY to put in evidence an affidavit signed by Mrs. WOODMAN, and dated on the 1st of September last, which exhibited in the most decided manner her sense of the injuries which she had suffered at the hands of Mr. FURNESS, and the painful relations which had subsisted between that gentleman and herself. No decision on the point had been pronounced by the Court when the adjournment took place.

In the Chess Congress yesterday, Mr. MORPHY won his third game in the contest for the first prize. He has only to win two more to entitle himself to the award. His antagonist, Mr. PAULSEN, won one game and there have been two draw games.

A meeting of residents in the Fourth-avenue and vicinity was held at the Westchester Hotel, Fourth-avenue, in favor of allowing the Harlem and New-Haven Railroad to continue to run their locomotives, as at present, to Thirty-second-street, and opposing the proposed action of the District-Attorney and Common Council restricting them in the use of steam, below Forty-second-street. The chair was occupied by PETER COOPER, Esq., and the proceedings were enthusiastic.

The Charter Election.

The State Election is over, and public attention is already turning to the canvass for City officers, which occurs a month hence. There was very little interest in the party contest of Tuesday last, and beyond the natural feeling of curiosity, the only concern felt in the result turns upon the indication it affords of the probable issue of the election for Mayor. Very many persons jump hastily to the conclusion that Mayor WOOD will walk over the course without serious opposition. They assume that he is to receive the entire vote of the Democratic party, and that this is sufficient to overbear the aggregate opposition, even if it should be united upon some one man. Nor have they any faith that this vote can be thus combined; they predict that Mayor WOOD still retains sufficient influence in the American Councils to induce them to nominate and run a candidate of their own, and thus to draw off votes enough to secure his election.

One thing is certain. If the December election is to be contested on party grounds, Mayor WOOD'S success is sure. And if the political parties take the business in hand, and put in nomination party candidates for the place, a state of feeling will be induced which will make it mainly a party contest. But if it can be kept entirely free from political partisanship,—if the honor and the welfare of the City are allowed to organize the canvass and preside over its conduct,—if a proper candidate should be named by men not identified with or conspicuous in either of the parties opposed to the Democracy, and should accept the nomination not as a member of any party, but solely and exclusively upon grounds connected with the reform and redemption of our City Government, the most judicious observers of public sentiment believe he would be elected. Whether such a course will be pursued depends upon the degree of interest felt in the result by that large, powerful and generally inattentive class of our citizens who have the most at stake.

The elements from which an estimate of the issue is to be drawn, may be found in the following comparative statement of the City vote last year and this:

1856. Buchanan	41,913
1857. Tucker	36,071	Dem loss	5,842
1856. Fremont	17,771
1857. Clapp	13,486	Rep. loss	4,285
1856. Fillmore	19,992
1857. Putnam	7,860	Am. loss	12,132
1856. Total vote	79,676
1857. Total vote	57,417	Total loss	22,259
1856. Buchanan's majority over all			4,159
1857. Tucker's majority over all			14,725

It is very evident from this statement that a very large portion of those who voted for FILLMORE last year have voted with the Democrats this year—not less, certainly, than six or seven thousand. Their general sympathies are, undoubtedly, with that party, but it is not at all unlikely that they would prefer some other person for Mayor to the present incumbent, and that they would vote for the opposition candidate if he would stand unpledged, both by his position and character, to stand aloof from all parties, and administer the Government upon independent principles of retrenchment and reform. If they should withdraw, and add their strength to the opposition, it would leave the two parties thus:

Tucker's vote	36,071
Deduct Americans	6,000
Democratic vote proper	30,071
Clapp's vote	13,486
Putnam's vote	7,860
Add Americans	6,000
Aggregate opposition	27,346
Democratic majority	2,725

Assuming, therefore, that the aggregate vote in December will be the same as that just cast—that the opposition will unite upon a candidate against Mayor WOOD, and that 6,000 Americans who voted the Democratic State ticket, will withdraw their support and vote with the opposition, it will be seen that a change of fifteen hundred Democratic votes will be sufficient to defeat Mayor WOOD. The probability is that the aggregate vote will be larger then than now:—but the increase will be more likely to be in the Opposition than in the Democratic ranks:—as the interest in the State election was much keener on the part of the Democrats than in either of the other parties, and they came much nearer polling their full vote.

From this statement it will be seen that the result of the Charter election depends entirely upon the discretion, good judgment and public spirit of those who are opposed to the reelection of Mayor WOOD. There is nothing in his position, or in the vote of his party, which need make his success a foregone conclusion. We have very little doubt that the majority of our citizens are opposed to his election. If they will consent to forego their political differences, to sacrifice their partisan aims and to act heartily, wisely and unitedly for the public welfare, they can place the government of this City in better and purer hands. Whether they will do so, or not, remains to be seen.

Family Feuds.

If we had not historical records to assure us and give us hope, we might fall into a very gloomy state of foreboding for the peace and happiness of our country, when we hear of the savage encounters that are almost daily taking place in every direction, between members of families and private individuals, in the attempt to glut their revenge for imaginary or real wrongs. These domestic tragedies are becoming almost as frequent with us as they once were among the Italians and Corsicans, or the half-savage Highlanders of Scotland. The utter disregard of all law, and the vindictive audacity with which men arm themselves for a deadly fight, to avenge their grievances, is much more characteristic of a semi-civilized people than of one that professes to have attained the very highest point of civilization. We know, however, that such things have always been, in every community which has cherished a sentiment of personal honor, or had the courage to rebel against oppression and wrong. We need not be disheartened therefore, or imagine that we are falling into a state of barbarism, because we now and then hear of instances of personal encounters among those who ought to be the conservators of the public peace. They are to be lamented when they do occur, and the parties involved should be held responsible for their violations of the law; but, happily, all these affairs are isolated cases; they are not the fruits of inherited feuds, and they end where they begin.

Pennsylvania appears to be extremely prolific of these savage encounters for the settlement of family feuds, and it is doubtless owing to the great leniency shown towards the criminals who have perpetrated some of the greatest outrages against the peace of that community, that they are so frequent. It is but a very few years since that a young man in Philadelphia waylaid and deliberately shot a man for having wronged his sister. There was no attempt made to deny the guilt of the murderer, yet he was acquitted by the Jury who tried him on the ground that he was justified by the conduct of his victim. It was either just after, or just before this event, that a father deliberately shot his own daughter for marrying contrary to his wishes, and he, too, was acquitted on the ground of sufficient provocation having been given for the horrible deed. It would be difficult to conceive of a possible homicide which would not be regarded by a Pennsylvania Jury as justifiable. The last case of an attempt to satisfy the cravings for revenge by a public homicide in Pennsylvania was the affray between the brothers MCKIBBIN and their brother-in-law, at Chambersburg, the particulars of which we have already published. This affair had more the character of a Corsican family feud than the other cases to which we have alluded, and the public offices held by some of the parties invest it with more than ordinary interest. But the most remarkable part of it is the letter of one of the brothers, giving a detailed, and, we presume, a correct account of the affray, narrating circumstantially how he and his brother entered a railroad car and commenced a fusillade against their brother-in-law, who was sitting there, wholly regardless of the lives of the innocent persons that were imperiled by the vollies fired from their revolvers. The brother, who writes the account of the shooting affray, is a member of Congress elect from California. After describing the manner in which he shot at his brother-in-law, he coolly adds:

"I do not think myself justifiable in risking my life as I did in order to take his. If every son of my father had combined to destroy him, there is not an honest heart that would not say the provocation was more than sufficient."

There may be a good many honest hearts which will be ready to condemn CRAIG, the brother-in-law, but will hesitate to justify the lawless and savage attempt upon his life. The monstrous assumption that every man has a right to avenge himself in his own way, for every wrong inflicted upon him, cannot be justified nor tolerated by any community that is desirous of preserving itself from utter anarchy and barbarism. It is a bad sign for us when a member of Congress publicly justifies such proceedings; but when we remember what another member of Congress from the same State which is represented by Mr. MCKIBBIN, did, and how easily he was let off for the offence he committed, we cannot marvel at this last outrage. The likelihood of these Pennsylvania brothers being punished for their murderous conduct may be judged of from the fact of their being allowed to go free, after they had surrendered themselves, on so small bail as eight hundred dollars.

Personal conflicts between hot-headed men are common enough in all parts of the world, and are likely to be while human nature is prone to error, and the apology for them is the heat of passion and the impatience of a generous nature, suffering under a sense of injury. But there are no such apologies to be offered for such deliberate outrages as this last Pennsylvania feud, which was as irrational and stupid as it was reckless and wicked. The pretended cause of the affray was the injured honor of a sister, and every manly heart will at once sympathise with the injured family when the cause is mentioned. But, what good was to result from the course adopted by these brothers? They were but proclaiming their sister's shame to the world, and bringing new griefs and trials upon their family by the attempt they made to murder the man who had brought dishonor upon them. It is difficult to understand how men who have the opportunity of a moment's reflection, can act with such an utter disregard of all prudence and reason, and commit acts which can have no other effect than to increase tenfold the troubles which have made their homes desolate. But the fault lies not so much with the men who commit these outrages, as with the public sentiment which encourages them, by permitting them to go unpunished.

VICISSITUDES OF TRADE.—Among the many instances of the ups and downs of commercial life which have been exhibited by the present "pressure," there is none more striking than that of the Grocers' Sugar Refining Company, which, but a few months since was one of the most prosperous concerns, apparently, in the City. Last year it declared a semi-annual dividend of thirty per cent., its President is one of the standard merchants in South-street, and its Vice-President was so able a manager that his services commanded a salary of ten thousand dollars a year. It had a paid up capital of half a million, and its customers were among the safest class of merchants in the City. Yet, with all these advantages it has been unable to meet its engagements, and stopped payment on Tuesday.

Probability of Another War in Central America.

Our correspondence from Central America, received by the Star of the West, brings important intelligence. We are informed that an officer in the Costa Rican service, under instructions from his Government, has taken possession of the San Juan River, and, having announced its blockade to the authorities at Greytown, has refused to allow boats or other Nicaraguan craft to pass up or down. The same officer, who is no other than Col. CAUTY, who figured in the Walker War, has also been directed to demand of the commandante of San Carlos the custody of that fort, and, in case of refusal, to enforce its surrender. It is alleged, by way of apology for this extraordinary move, that WALKER is contemplating another invasion of Nicaragua, and that a Costa Rican army alone is capable of defending that Republic. Making every allowance for the correctness of this supposition, the step last taken by Costa Rica can only be regarded as an open declaration of war. It is clearly a casus belli; for she takes violent possession of her neighbor's forts and territory in defiance of that neighbor's protests and remonstrances. We are not yet informed what measures the actual Government of Nicaragua will adopt to repel this usurpation of its rights: but General MARTINEZ, who has just been elected President, is not the man, if report speaks truth, to submit to Costa Rican aggression. The next mail from Central America will probably bring us more definite information on this point. If a war between the two States should be the result of this Costa Rican move, then WALKER'S chances would again rise in the ascendant, for, after the combatants had thoroughly exhausted themselves, he could easily step in and himself decide the issue. Nor is he likely to lose such an opportunity.

The great struggle between Nicaragua and Costa Rica is for the Transit route. We are told that the latter has annulled the Webster grant in consequence of non-fulfillment of contract, and is now willing to place the transit under the protection of the United States on the sole condition that its neutrality be preserved. This is certainly a fair offer, but its good faith is not supported by present appearances.

It is strange that diminutive States, in the position of the Central American Republics, cannot see that their only security from the fillibustering invasions they so much dread, lies in unity. Yet as soon as Costa Rica and Nicaragua have succeeded, after a long struggle, in expelling WALKER from their soil, they get up a quarrel between themselves for the most insignificant causes and jealousies. It really seems as if the special destiny of these States was to ruin each other.

RAMPANT AMERICANISM.—It must be very discouraging to the sincere friends of the "American Order" to read the report of the violent proceedings of their party at the election in Baltimore yesterday. It appears that Governor LIGON better understood the spirit of the Baltimoreans than did the Mayor of the city. The frightful scenes which were enacted there yesterday have fully justified the Governor's conduct in placing the city under martial law. Baltimore has always been noted for its lawless mobs, and it earned the title of "Mob-town" nearly half a century ago. It is, too, the very centre and head-quarters of "Americanism," and it appears it was this spirit which caused the murderous conflict at the polls yesterday. Americanism has not manifested any such violence here, nor in any other part of the country, except Louisville, where it has once had the dominant power. The violence of its manifestation in Baltimore is probably owing to the circumstance that so large a portion of the inhabitants of that city are Roman Catholics, who are so peculiarly obnoxious to the "American" sentiment. But it stands the party in hand if they expect to maintain their organization to adopt measures which will prevent the recurrence of such acts of violence as were perpetrated in Baltimore yesterday, or they will bring a reproach upon their name which will make all patriotic, or even decent men ashamed to own themselves members of their organization.

THE NEW ELECTION LAW.—We hear but one voice in regard to the practical operation of our new Election law. It is universally approved. The glass ballot-boxes commend themselves to approbation. Every voter has the satisfaction of seeing for himself where his ballot goes to, and the full conviction that there is no chance for having a secret drawer filled with votes for use in case of need. The removal of polling booths, the appointment of Poll Clerks, the presence of Policemen, and the prohibition of liquor-selling, all worked well, and contributed to the quiet, order and fairness which characterized the Election of Tuesday.

THE HERNDON TESTIMONIAL.—The ladies of this City, who are engaged in organizing a fund for the purpose of doing fit honor to the memory of the gallant and lamented commander of the Central America, have invited Mr. J. HOWARD WAINWRIGHT, of this City, to deliver a lecture in aid of their noble enterprise. That gentleman has accepted this honorable distinction, and on Thursday evening next, the 12th inst., will deliver an address on "The Sea and the Sailors of Antiquity," at the Mercantile Library Hall. We need hardly call the particular notice of our readers to this announcement, and have only to add that tickets may be procured of any of the Committee of the Fund.

GIRLS FOR THE WEST.—The branch office of the Children's Aid Society, for helping unemployed trades-girls to the West, opens to-day for business. PETER COOPER'S liberality has furnished the Society with an office in the Union Buildings, on Third-avenue, near Astor-place.

This movement is not designed to forward girls at service or now in employment, but only to aid those who are out of work, and with but small means left. For the present, office hours are from 9 to 2 o'clock.

In all cases those who are assisted by the Society are expected either to pay their fare in advance or have it deducted from their first wages. Those who pay cash in advance will be first attended to, and next those who advance a portion of their fares.

☞ The barge Puritan, Capt. S. CHAPIN, arrived yesterday from Albany with 13,200 bushels of wheat, and 600 barrels flour, probably the greatest quantity of wheat ever brought in one barge, under deck.

Magnetic Telegraph Co.'s Offices—No. 43 Wall-st., and 181 Broadway

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Proposed New Territory of Arizona—Congressmen from Baltimore—Domestic Appointments—Supplies for the Pacific Squadron, &c.

From Our Own Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Wednesday, Nov. 4, 1857.

Lieutenant MOWRY had an interview with the President to-day relative to the proposition to create the Territory of Arizona. The President received him kindly, and invited him to a future conversation—expressing a decided interest in the subject.

Already a cry is raised here in favor of refusing seats in Congress to the Representatives elected from Baltimore to-day, in consequence of the riots, and driving voters from the polls. Governor LIGON is condemned by all parties for withdrawing his Proclamation.

Quite a number of domestic appointments are understood to have been determined upon by the President, to be announced in due time. The Marshalship of the District of Columbia has been the subject of a spirited contest, and Col. SELDEN, late United States Treasurer, and WM. FLINN, Esq., are still prominent candidates for the place. Both of these gentlemen will be disappointed, in all probability, and GEORGE PLITT, Esq., of Philadelphia, will take the prize. There is no doubt that Mr. BUCHANAN made his mind up to this result some time ago. In addition to the fact that Mr. PLITT is well qualified for the position, it is understood that the President desires the presence of his family in Washington for the sake of their society at the White House—Mrs. PLITT being an intimate personal friend of the President's niece, Miss LANE.

The plan of sending men and supplies across the Isthmus of Panama, for our Pacific squadron, has operated quite aswell as was anticipated, and is found both convenient and economical. We may reasonably anticipate that, hereafter, as a general thing, this course will be pursued, instead of sending our cruisers by the tedious route around Cape Horn and bringing them back the same way, at the beginning and end of each cruise. The advantage of the new system is relatively enhanced by the fact that Mr. TOUCEY has wisely shortened the cruises to two years,—a considerable portion of which time would necessarily be lost under the old system in making the voyage. It certainly can require no argument to show that millions of dollars are to be saved to the Government by sending men and supplies out to our ships on the Pacific, instead of in national vessels around the Horn, except in the occasional instance in which for some special reason it is deemed advisable to station a new vessel in those waters,—for every voyage of twelve thousand miles out and home wastes months of time of vessel, officers and crew, without the slightest return.

Another step in the development of the new policy would be the stationing of a storeship in the Bay of Panama, instead of keeping one at Valparaiso, as now. In the advanced and changed stage of our interest on the west coast of our own continent and of South America, there seems to be no good reason why a storeship should be kept at Valparaiso, an extreme southern port. Panama is a much more accessible point, and a far more central one for the concentration of the Pacific Squadron. It is in the unavoidable track, too, of the great stream of travel and traffic between the two oceans, where the presence of our fleet is necessary oftener than at any other place. The storeship could always be supplied in nine or ten days, from New-York, in quantities as needed, thus securing superior freshness and avoiding loss by deterioration or wastage. Vessels can receive orders at Panama from the Navy Department in nine days instead of the thirty to fifty now required in reaching Valparaiso, and they will be in position to strike North or South as circumstances may require. If a vessel is wanted at a Southern port, and none is in the neighborhood, word can be sent to Panama once a fortnight by mail steamer. The California steamers will bring similar requisitions every few days from the North, if necessary, and ere many months, in all probability, an Australian line will be in operation, concentrating at the same point. This second step in the great reform which Secretary TOUCEY is advancing, may reasonably be expected to be taken at no distant day. S.

ST. LOUIS, Wednesday, Nov. 4.

Kansas letters of the 29th state that only 33 of the 60 members of the Constitutional Convention were present, and nothing of general interest had been done.

Governor WALKER and Secretary STANTON were at Lawrence on the 29th, and nothing was said about leaving the Territory.

The Herald of Freedom says that the Bank suspensions at the East have been severely felt in Kansas. There was a large amount of valueless Eastern Exchange there.

Upwards of 300 troops were at Lecompton.

A protest had been entered against the issuing of certificates to the Pro-Slavery candidates for the Legislature in the Leavenworth District, on account of alleged frauds in the Kickapoo Precinct.

Serious Shooting Affair in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Wednesday, Nov. 4.

RICHARD CARTER, President of the Anthracite Bank of Tamaqua, was shot dead this morning in the parlor of the St. Lawrence Hotel, by THOMAS WASHINGTON SMITH, of Cecil County, Maryland. SMITH fired first four balls from his revolver, and two more after CARTER had fallen on the floor. CARTER was a middle-aged man, wealthy, and has a family. SMITH is aged 30 years, and was laboring under great excitement. CARTER had accused SMITH of the seduction of a ward or adopted daughter of his. SMITH states that he met the girl at a boarding-school and married her. He subsequently discovered that she had been the mistress of CARTER. She had a child four months after marriage. The shooting was in revenge. SMITH was arrested, and is awaiting a hearing at the Mayor's Office.

At the hearing this evening SMITH claimed to be the traveling agent of a mercantile agency.

Great Fire at Cairo.

CINCINNATI, Wednesday, Oct. 4.

The dépôt of the Illinois Central Railroad at Cairo, with all its contents, was destroyed by fire on Sunday night. Four freight cars and the engine house were included in the property destroyed. The loss is estimated at $200,000. Part of the dépôt was occupied by the agent of the Company, the clerks and expressmen, who lost everything. A package of $1,500 belonging to the Express Company was destroyed. A package of the same amount belonging to ADAMS, GRAHAM & Co. was also destroyed. The amount of insurance is not ascertained.

The Case of Cummings.

TORONTO, Wednesday, Nov. 4.

CUMMINGS, the officer of the Bank of Upper Canada, who was lately arrested for robbing the Bank, was tried to-day and found guilty of embezzlement, and recommended to mercy. MCGAFFNEY, now under arrest in Buffalo for complicity in the same affair, is undergoing an examination as to the validity of his arrest and removal to Toronto under the Ashburton Treaty. The case is exciting considerable interest.

The Suspension of the Banks of Missouri Legalized.

ST. LOUIS, Wednesday, Nov. 4.

A bill legalizing the suspension of the Banks of this State till the 1st of November, 1858, passed the House yesterday, by 25 majority.

The Pennsylvania Railroad.

PHILADELPHIA, Wednesday, Nov. 4.

The Directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad have resolved that it is not advisable to declare their usual dividend.

Departure of the Europa.

BOSTON, Wednesday, Nov. 4.

The Royal Mail steamship Europa sailed at noon to-day for Liverpool via Halifax, with 41 passengers for the former and 26 for the latter port; and $6,500 in specie.

Steamboat Explosion.

DETROIT, Thursday, Nov. 4.

The steamer Arrow collapsed a flue to-day on her passage from Port Huron to this city. Two firemen were killed.

Naval Intelligence.

BOSTON, Wednesday, Nov. 4.

Orders have been received at the Navy Yard here to make immediate preparations for building one of the new steam-propeller sloops-of-war.

Academy of Music.

VERDI'S Opera of "Rigoletto" is certainly one of the master's best works, yet it has not been given since Mr. OLE BULL'S famous operatic experiment, when that distinguished impresario accomplished a season of something less than one week with signal discomfiture. The ensembles in this Opera are conceived and elaborated in the true spirit of dramatic music, and, with anything like a decent conductor, cannot fail to interest and impress an audience. Beginning with this fact, we can at once praise the performance of last evening. Mr. ANSCHUTZ has not shown to greater advantage than in this Opera. The chorus and orchestra were alike excellent.

The part of Rigolette makes great demands on the artist who undertakes it. It requires much, both vocally and dramatically, to make it what the composer intends it shall be. Mr. TAFFANELLI, a baritone who is not so often heard as he deserves to be, undertook it last night, and made a favorable impression—which is saying something. Mr. TAFFANELLI sings well, and has his voice under very excellent control. This latter fact appears to be prominently in his mind at all times, and for the performance of little delicacies (sometimes excessively fine drawn,) he sacrifices every dramatic opportunity. Added to this, is the fact that Mr. TAFFANELLI cannot act. He is what is popularly called a "stick," and one is overpowered by the idea that such a very dull person could, by any possibility, be a Court Buffoon. In spite of these drawbacks, Mr. TAFFANELLI deserves much credit for much musical excellence. If he left us something to desire, he did not give us much to regret.

Mlle. FREZZOLINI, as Gilda, sang with decided intention. For once she did not appear to be perfectly certain in her own mind that she was going to walk over the operatic course. She was relatively good; that is to say, much better than she has been in most of her recent efforts. At times she was really excellent.

The event of the evening was the début of Signor BIGNARDI, a new tenor recently arrived in this country. There are some phenomena connected with this gen'leman. In the first place, he has got a voice; in the second, he does not appear to be afflicted with a chronic cold; in the third, he sings like a man, and not like a whining monk. Such an unusual combination of attributes excited an audience not over-used to their influence, and Signor BIGNARDI obtained a well-merited success. His voice is of the [illegible] kind, but with a more delicate vein of sentiment in it than we have had in his predecessors. It is well cultivated, and capable of much expression. We look on Signor BIGNARDI as one of the most desirable members of the company, and if he justifies the impression of last night, he will prove a good card to the management.

The opera gave much satisfaction to a fashionable, and, we should suppose, profitable audience.

CONCERT.—Messrs. THALBERG and VIEUXTEMPS give their last grand concert to-night at Niblo's Saloon. The programme is remarkably attractive.

☞ The Second Rehearsal of the Brooklyn Philharmonic Society was held yesterday afternoon, at the Brooklyn Athenæum. The room was well filled, the greater portion of the audience being ladies.

BEETHOVEN'S symphony, the "Héroica," was finely rendered by the efficient orchestra, under the lead of Mr. THEODORE EISFELD. MENDELSSOHN'S overture, "Ruy Blas," and WEBER'S overture, "Oberon," were so executed as to elicit demonstrations of applause, and giving promise for the brilliant success of the first public concert.

It was announced by the President that all subscribers who wished extra tickets must apply for them soon, as the number of outsiders who desired them was constantly increasing, and it was desirable to accommodate the subscribers first.

From present appearances the call for a music hall will soon be issued.

California Ticket Swindling and Robbery.

The steamer Northern Light leaves for Aspinwall to-day, at 2 o'clock, with about 500 passengers and the California mails. About 250 United States troops go by this steamer to the Pacific, under command of Colonel CASEY, who is accompanied by his wife and two daughters. The troops have engaged a large part of the accommodations in this steamer, and it being the season for increased travel, there has been a fine opportunity to speculate on tickets, as there is much larger demand for passages than can be provided for on the steamer of the 5th. Consequently there has been a great rush for tickets. Profiting by this state of things, the bogus ticket-sellers near the genuine office, corner of Warren and West streets, have done a thriving business. We report some of the cases which occurred yesterday.

D. HODGES, with a party of four friends, came to town from Inham County, Mich., bound for California. They put up at Lovejoy's, where, instead of acquainting the landlord with their destination, and asking his advice, and direction to the proper ticket office, HODGES permitted a runner to "get into his confidence," by whom he was literally robbed of every cent of money he possessed. He was told by his new and obliging acquaintance that he could show him the place to buy his ticket, but as he would have to get his Michigan money changed for gold, or City funds, he would go with him to a broker's who would charge him only 1 per cent. They went together into Liberty-place, near William-street. Here the greenhorn handed over to the sharper all his money, who passed in at one door and out at an opposite one, leaving the Michigan gentleman awaiting his return. Having stood at the door until his suspicions were aroused, he went through the same doors that his illustrious predecessor had taken, and awakened to the conclusion that he had been robbed. The whole party decided thereupon to return home with their victimized friend, rather than leave him in New-York; but they "mean to return, and when they do they intend to keep an eye open for confidence men."

Two brothers, JOHN C. PARSONS and JOEL E. PARSONS, from Sweeden, Monroe County, New-York, have a brother, a druggist, doing business in California, who remitted them money with which to join him there. They came to town yesterday morning, and as they allege, were met at the landing by a man who inquired where they were going; on being told they wished to go to French's Hotel, and were bound to California, he offered to carry them and their baggage to that place, and said he would then show them where to buy their ticket. But instead of taking them to French's, they were set down at the "Western Railroad Hotel" corner of Liberty and Greenwich-streets, and then were conducted to an office, corner of Chambers and West-streets, for their ticket. Here they were told there were but two tickets left by this steamer, for which they were charged $200, each; but as this was more ready money than they possessed, they began to think they would have to return home again. Their brother, however, had remitted them $50 to make purchases with.

They offered this check to make up $385, which the sharpers agreed to take for the two tickets. Upon finding out that they had been cheated, the dupes went before Recorder SMITH, in company with Dr. BENJAMIN, and made a complaint. The Recorder sent Officer LOWERY to the office, at the corner of Chambers and West streets, with one of the brothers, who pointed out the man who received their money and draft. He was brought before the Recorder, and, refusing to restore the money he had unlawfully taken, (the act being in violation of the late law against the sale of steamer tickets by any other than the regular agency,) he was ordered to be committed without bail. By the consent of the officer, however, he was permitted to go to the office to arrange the matter, but, as he alleged, he could not induce his associates to refund the money, came back, asked to be admitted to bail, which the Recorder fixed at $2,500, with two sureties. He stated he had never been charged with crime, or "had a key turned on him;" that he had a wife and family to provide for, and a character which stood fair. He offered to return the check, and plead hard to have the bail reduced; but, as there were constant complaints (at least twenty) of late against that office, the Recorder refused to reduce the bail, and he was taken to the Tombs. The young men intend to remain in the City, if necessary, and see the matter prosecuted; and the Recorder expressed his determination to make an example of this case. There were several other similar cases.

A Father and Three Children Drowned.

Mr. HASKELL of Jamesport, Long Island, with three of his boys, all young, went out in a skiff to visit his eel-pots last Monday morning, when, by accident, the boat was upset and father and children all drowned. Mr. HASKELL leaves a wife, and a child only a month old. He was an estimable citizen. The bodies were not recovered, except that of one of the boys, which drifted up on the beach late Monday night.

E. C. HERRING & CO.'S PATENT CHAMPION SAFES.—The subscribers, grateful for past favors, and finding that a discriminating public were bestowing their patronage to that extent that more warerooms were necessary to exhibit all their stock, have enlarged their depôt, by opening an extensive ware and sales room on Broadway, at No. 251, corner of Murray-st., opposite the City Hall. This enlargement of warehouse room, with the recent extensive enlargement of their factory, will enable the subscribers to keep on hand at all times a larger stock of fire and burglar-proof safes than any other establishment in the world. Particular attention will be had to constructing safes for private families to match with other furniture, for the security of plate and jewelry, (and housekeepers are invited to call and examine for themselves.) Also, will keep on hand and make to order, all kinds of money chests, vault doors and bank vaults. Hall's patent powder-proof locks for banks or store doors. Jones' patent permutation bank lock, and Orygier's patent letter lock, without key.

Mr. LANSING BONNELL, Milwaukie,
Agent for Herring & Co.'s Patent Safes.
DEAR SIR: The Herring Champion Safe that I purchased of you, was in my store at the time it was burned last March. The heat was so great that it melted off the brass plates and knob on the front of the safe. The door was warped so badly from the heat, that I was obliged to cut it open. But I am happy to say to you, the contents of the safe were preserved to my perfect satisfaction.

SPECIAL NOTICE.
BRADY'S GALLERY
Is open from 7 A. M. to 6 P. M.
Portraits may be made at any hour from 8 to 4½ o'clock. Persons who call on their way to or from business will be detained but a few minutes.
Embarrassment is frequently occasioned by the number who require sittings about midday. And this notice is designed to correct a prevalent impression that portraits are better taken at that hour. They are made with equal facility and excellence MORNING and AFTERNOON, and in clear or cloudy weather.
BRADY'S GALLERY,
NO. 359 BROADWAY.
Now is the time to obtain PHOTOGRAPHIC PORTRAITS. The splendid pictures at BRADY'S GALLERY are selling at half their former cost.
Nearly THIRTY THOUSAND PORTRAITS have been made during the past year, and their quality is too widely known to require description. They are regarded, by those familiar with the art, as the perfection of Photography.
The superb IMPERIAL PHOTOGRAPH is sold at $15, $20 and $30. Several hundred specimens of the Imperial are exhibited at the Gallery, No. 359 Broadway. Among these are portraits of
JAMES BUCHANAN,

All (with one exception) recent productions. Much interest attaches to the collection, as no other of similar extent exists in the world.
The IMPERIAL PHOTOGRAPH is made only at BRADY'S GALLERY.
FULL-LENGTH—LIFE SIZES,
Photographed on Canvas and finished in Oil. They are similar in appearance, although more accurate resemblances, than ordinary oil-paintings.
MEDALLION—LIFE SIZES,
Finished in Oil, at $30 each. They have hitherto been sold at $60. Copies from Daguerreotypes in this style present the perfect effect of life, and the result is, of course, permanent. Those who possess fading portraits of deceased friends may rely upon obtaining accurate portraits of life size, finished in a manner which assures durability.
LIFE SIZES IN CRAYON
A new style of Portrait just introduced. They blend the delicacy of the Crayon Sketch with the vigorous effect of the Photograph in a remarkable degree. They are sold at from $20 to $50.
CRAYON VIGNETTES,
Suited to the portrayal of ladies or children, are also a new feature in Photography. A sitting for either of the above styles occupies but three seconds.
LARGE GROUPS
Of FAMILIES or FRIENDS are taken almost instantaneously, and may be made of any desired size. Taken by the new process groups are free from the crude severity which usually characterizes those made by the Camera. Twenty or thirty persons may be portrayed at once perfectly. The result may be painted in oil or water colors, and is susceptible of the most elaborate artistic finish. The ease and simplicity with which they are made render them comparatively inexpensive. Portraits of an entire family may be obtained by this method at little more than the cost of a single picture.
PHOTOGRAPHS IN WATER COLORS
Possess, in addition to their reality as likenesses, the brilliant artistic effect of water-color sketches. Those exhibited by Mr. Brady are pronounced by recent visitors to European galleries superior to any similar works in Europe.
MINIATURE PHOTOGRAPHS, exquisitely elaborate, painted to resemble miniatures upon ivory, from $5 to $50 each. They may be set in bracelets, lockets, or small cases,
PLAIN PHOTOGRAPHS of every size, and at every price from $1 to $10. Duplicate copies at a trifling cost. These are suitable for interchange among Clubs, Classes, Associations, or Families.
AMEROTYPES, a beautiful style of MINIATURE, made instantaneously, and finished ready for delivery in a few minutes. The process is admirably suited to the production of PORTRAITS of CHILDREN.
From twenty to thirty different styles of portraits are made at BRADY'S GALLERY, adapted to every taste, and designed to accommodate every pecuniary condition. The superior quality of the PHOTOGRAPHS will in all cases be preserved.
A partial resumption of the old prices will soon become necessary. The effect of the reduction has been decisive, and, if present prospects are realized, the establishment will be unable, at the reduced rates, to supply the increased demand. Due notice will, however, be given of any further change.
BRADY'S LOWER GALLERY,
No. 205 Broadway, will be found convenient by those occupied down town who desire portraits. It is in the vicinity of the Astor House, corner of Fulton-st.

IRON AND HARDWARE.

DOOR SPRING INJUNCTION.—TUESDAY, (Nov. 3,) the United States Circuit Court, in a suit prosecuted by A. J. Walker, granted an injunction against Gray Brothers, of this City, prohibiting them or their agents from making, using, or selling, Gray's Improved Detachable Bracket, (such as they have been furnishing with their Steel Roof Door Springs for a year past,) the Court fully sustaining the patent of A. J. Walker, granted Oct. 7, 1856, and holding that Gray's Bracket is a direct infringement.
We call the attention of the hardware trade to the report of this case in the law intelligence of this day's paper, (Nov. 5,) and hereby notify them that we are the sole proprietors and manufacturers of Steel Roof Door Springs with Walker's Patent Double Hinged Detachable Bracket, and caution them against buying or selling an infringing article.

NEW-YORK AND ERIE RAILROAD COMPANY—PROPOSALS FOR LOAN.—Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the New-York and Erie Railroad Company, in the City of New-York, until the first day of November, 1857, for the purchase of $6,000,000 of the Bonds of the Company, redeemable on the first October, 1880, bearing seven per cent. interest, payable semi-annually, on the first days of April and October.

They will be sold at par payable as follows:

50 per cent. in any of the unsecured Bonds of the company, redeemable in 1862, 1871 and 1875.

10 per cent. in cash at the time of subscribing.

40 per cent. in monthly installments of 10 per cent., or in cash, at the option of the purchasers.

These Bonds are guaranteed by a Mortgage on the entire road and its franchises, on all the leasehold property of the Company, including the wharves, ferry privileges and landed property of the Long Dock Company of Jersey City, and on the entire equipment of the Company.

The object of the loan is to fund the present floating debt of the Company, and to obtain means to continue the construction of the tunnel, depôt, wharves, and other improvements on the Long Dock property. It will only increase the present indebtedness of the Company about $1,000,000. The following is a comparative statement of the past and present financial position of the Company:

	1855. Sept. 30.	1856. Sept. 30.	1857. Aug. 1.
Capital Stock	$10,023,959	$10,000,000	$11,000,000
Funded Debt	24,891,000	24,891,000	24,891,000
Floating Debt	1,211,768	1,104,970	2,002,135
Interest on Bonds due 1st August, less amt deposited to meet it	—	—	132,285
Total Indebtedness	$26,102,768	$26,995,970	$27,025,420
Cash and Cash Items	$180,758	$300,856	$127,077
Materials	504,655	502,541	535,000
Fuel	497,115	728,463	630,000
Steamers and propellers on Lake Erie	88,875	218,331	261,229
Rolling Stock loaned to C. & N. F. R. R.	100,000	100,000	100,000
Other Assets	10,456	46,234	28,509
Due by Agents	—	—	251,066
Advanced to Long Dock Company	—	—	436,521
Bonds of 1875 in Sinking Fund	322,000	794,000	1,315,500
	$1,703,857	$2,690,425	$3,648,902
Liabilities over Assets	$24,398,911	$23,305,545	$23,376,518

That the expenditures of the Long Dock Company are judicious, and sure to prove profitable to the New-York and Erie Railroad Company, no one can doubt who will examine the subject. The New-York and Erie Railroad Company have a lease (with the right to purchase at the original cost at any time after six years) of the entire property of the Long Dock Company, consisting of over 2,500 lots of ground, exclusive of the assets reported to be specified, with ferry privileges, ferry slips and wharves now in construction. The wharves will offer 7,740 linear feet of berth room. Vessels drawing over 20 feet of water will receive the heavy products of the West directly from the cars, or from warehouses into which the cars will run and be unloaded in any weather, without danger or injury to property. The facilities and economy which this will offer to shipper and receivers must largely increase the traffic of the New-York and Erie Railroad Company, and enable it to charge higher rates for transportation than those charged by other routes. The ferries will undoubtedly prove a source of revenue to the Company, whereas, at present, the ferriage of passengers and merchandise is a heavy tax on the Company.

Any portion of the 2,500 lots not needed by the New-York and Erie Railroad Company can be sold at any time, and by the terms of the lease the proceeds must be applied to the extinguishment or to the creation of a Sinking Fund for the extinguishment of the debt incurred for the improvement of the Long Dock property. The value of this property must be very great whenever the New-York and Erie Company shall own their track to the new terminus.

CHARLES MORAN, President.

NATHANIEL MARSH, Secretary.
NEW-YORK, Aug. 17, 1857.

LOAN FOR $500,000 FOR THE DEFICIENCY in the Sinking Fund, under Section 3, Article 7, of the Constitution.

The Commissioners of the Canal Fund, by virtue of the act entitled "An act to provide means to support the Government," passed April 12, 1855, and in accordance with Section 3 of Article 7 of the Constitution, hereby give notice, that sealed proposals will be received at the Canal Department until the 10th day of November next, at 12 o'clock, noon of that day, for a loan of FIVE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS, for which transferable certificates of stock will be issued in the name of the people of the State of New-York, on the credit of the Sinking Fund, under Section 3, Article 7, of the Constitution, bearing interest at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum, payable quarterly on the first days of January, April, July, and October, in each year, and the principal reimbursable on the 1st day of October, 1875. It is to be understood that the Commissioners are to be at liberty to take a less sum, if the offers are not such as in their opinion are advantageous to the interest of the State. The proposals may be for the whole or any part of said loan, not less than $5,000. All proposals to be sealed up, and indorsed "Loan for the Sinking Fund," and inclosed in an envelope, directed to the Auditor of the Canal Department, Albany.

The money will be required to be paid, five per cent. on the acceptance of the proposal, and the balance on the 16th day of November next.

Payments to be made by depositing the same to the credit of the "Treasurer of the State on account of the Canal Fund," in the Manhattan Company, New-York, or in the New-York State Bank, in the city of Albany. Interest on the loan will commence on the 16th day of November next, and the holders of the stock residing in the First and Second Judicial Districts, and those residing out of the State, will receive the interest on the Stocks held by them, quarterly, at the Manhattan Company, in the City of New-York; and all other Stockholders at the New-York State Bank, in the city of Albany. THE WOODMAN CASE.

band and myself during any part of this interview; there was no female present; had never seen her before; I went there in the capacity of a lawyer to do a lawyer's business; have no knowledge that she knew a lawyer was coming there; was introduced to her by Mr. Woodman; he introduced me to her as a lawyer, I think, though I don't know that he used those words on that occasion; it was perfectly apparent that she understood I was a lawyer; don't think I shook hands with her; perhaps I did on going away; never saw her again; the letter I saw there that night, and which she said was hers, was a letter she had written to Mr. Furness; I read the whole of it; it was not a very long one; covered about a page of letter paper; don't recollect with any definiteness what other papers I saw in her writing; there was a mass of some two or three hundred papers, several scraps of which were in her handwriting; I presume I read some of those scraps, but do not now recollect; from my recollection I should think those scraps were papers similar to the letter I saw; some of them were of the most trifling character; can't say how long any of them was; don't recollect whether her name was attached to them; Mr. Woodman left the house with me, went past my residence, and said he was going to the Metropolitan Hotel; have no reason to suppose that he returned that night to Mr. Merrick's; it is my belief that he stayed at the hotel; I prepared the affidavit next day; Woodman may have been present part of the time; but I don't recollect the fact if he was; he did not interfere with the paper in any way; I burned those memoranda immediately after I had copied them; I threw them on my desk into the grate; I did not myself burn them that I recollect; those were the minutes, and they were the only papers I had taken down in her presence; I wrote the rough draft myself; don't know where it is; have no recollection of ever destroying it; don't know whether I could recollect dictating it; I could, perhaps, if I could have put among the papers in my office; if so I can get it, and will be very happy to bring it here; the paper in the meantime had been handed to Mr. Woodman, and he brought it back, with some suggestions of Mrs. Woodman as to alterations and things that she wanted omitted, which were finally omitted; he brought it back within two days, I should think; I did not go with him to the office of the Courrier des Etats-Unis; don't know of the paper ever being in that office; think Mr. Woodman took the paper one day and brought it back on the next; I myself compared the memoranda with the redraft; there was no person looking on one while the other was being read, and for that reason I am certain of its correctness; I destroyed the memoranda because I considered them worthless; there may have been ten or a dozen of those different pieces of paper that I call scraps; the handwriting of this copy of the draft is that of Mr. Martin, my clerk; I gave him the redraft to copy; I cannot tell why Mrs. Woodman did not sign that first draft; it was not intended to be signed; it was intended to be given to a copyist; I don't think I compared this paper with the redraft; I am not in the habit of comparing papers copied in the office; those letters, (appended to the affidavit,) I think I compared with the originals; the four lines that immediately precede the copies of the notes are in my handwriting; the writing which follows is in the handwriting of Mr. Martin; I know Mr. Marston, a Commissioner of Deeds; think his office is in No. 59 Nassau-street; the line "Written to Mr. Furness" is also in my handwriting; my knowledge of the originals is from Mrs. Woodman's recognition of them; I never got a letter from Mr. Furness, nor did any of my friends that I know of; I received those letters that are annexed to the affidavit prior to the time I saw Mrs. Woodman; at times I had them and at times he had them; I did not make copies of them among my memoranda; I gave them to my clerk to copy into this; I presume there is no copy of them annexed to the original draft; I think the letter marked No. 1, and the answer appended to a letter of hers, are copies of the whole; the others are extracts; that is the best of my recollection; No. 1 may very likely have had a signature; I do not think the last one had; the others, I think, are all parts of letters the originals of which were furnished to me by Mr. Woodman, and which I returned to Mr. Woodman; I gave the copy of the redraft to Mr. Woodman; I presume it was given to him as soon as it was copied; that was two or three days, I should think. Before the 1st of September, the day of the jurat; think he had this paper, altogether, for two or three weeks before he went away, when he deposited it with me the day before he left town; when he brought it to me, finally, it was in this condition, with the jurat of the Commissioner appended; I never saw Mrs. Woodman write anything; never read the redraft or this paper to Mrs. Woodman; never saw her but the once; I was employed to take her statement, and it was taken in that form.

Q.—Have you any such knowledge of James T. Brady's handwriting as to enable you to swear that that indorsement (on the affidavit) is in his handwriting? A.—I believe I saw him write it; I have not the slightest doubt that it is in his handwriting.

Mr. Busteed insisted on the insufficiency of the answer.

The Court ruled it to be sufficient.

Witness.—I am very familiar with the handwriting of Mr. Brady.

The previous question was repeated.

The witness refused to answer further than he had already stated.

The question was again put, and the answer ruled to be sufficient unless the witness chose to answer it again.

Witness continued.—The alterations in the draft made from the memoranda were suggested by Mrs. Woodman, and were mainly omissions; there were several alterations; I think they were marked in pencil on the draft, and, I presume, by Mr. Woodman, though they may have been done by Mrs. Woodman; I have had letters from Mr. Woodman and have seen him write; I am familiar with his writing; I could tell perfectly in whose handwriting those corrections were, but I don't recollect what they were; the suggestions were mainly as to the omission of some passages that she wished left out; as to the suggestions that were not for omissions, they were not of any importance; I don't know whether they were variations from the memoranda.

By the Court.—She was sobbing when I saw her; she was in an excited state of mind, such as I would suppose to be the natural result of a serious mortification; the conversation on which the memoranda were based was carried on mainly by her; her husband would at times suggest subjects for her; he would say, "Now, Carrie, tell him about such and such a thing;" I did not make a perfect daguerreotype of her words, as these gentlemen (the reporters) would do, but I took down what I believed to be her meaning, and read it over to her; I am satisfied that the affidavit, as it stands here, is perfectly consistent with what she told me, except that there were some matters which touched her feelings too nearly, as she wished them omitted.

Mr. Brady offered the paper in evidence.

Mr. Busteed objected.

Mr. Brady—On what ground?

Mr. Busteed—On every principle of law, decency and justice, and out of the commonest regard for the rights and interests of parties not here; and because upon every conceivable ruling or principle of law applicable to the reference or production, it is not proper evidence in this cause, nor in any cause in any Court; and because the evidence in relation to it has substantiated the premises. I now state as objections to its being heard or produced.

Mr. Brady argued to sustain the competency of the evidence on which he claimed to have the affidavit read, and for the admissability of the affidavit itself.

When the witness had retired,

The Court remarked that the great principle of the law, that is of the old common law, though the statute had somewhat changed it, was, that married women were, in some sense, in the power of their husbands. The difficulty in this case so far as this document (Mrs. Woodman's affidavit) was concerned, was to determine whether it could be said to be the production of that species of marital control or the free act of the wife herself. And then again, supposing it even to be her free act, the question would present itself how far her declarations made in that manner ought to be used to the prejudice of a third person, when, in point of fact, the only relevancy in the matter under consideration was the extent to which it indicated the condition of her mind, whether sound or unsound. So far as it was a free act on her part, he presumed it was admissable, but so far as it might go to reflect upon persons who were not present when it was dictated, he should have very great doubts about it. There was one consideration to which counsel (Mr. Brady) had referred, and on which he said he had some authorities to present, which somewhat embarrassed the Court; and that was, how for the position of relator in this case could be looked into with a view to dismiss the proceeding without trial. The difficulty lay here: supposing the proceeding to be dismissed, and it should appear that there was evidence of restraint, he (the Judge) should be obliged, in accordance with the statute, to issue a writ of habeas corpus for the release of this woman so that, in any event supposing her to be in the proper condition of mind, the result would be the same.

Mr. Brady wished to state to his Honor that he would not consider the argument in this case closed on the relevancy and competency of this paper until he had called his Honor's attention to every word of it, and that he most assuredly would do unless his Honor forbade him.

After some conversation between Mr. Busteed and the Court, it was agreed to adjourn until Thursday morning.

Mr. Brady offered the testimony of Mr. Myer Marston, the Commissioner of Deeds, before whom Mrs. Woodman's affidavit was sworn to. He said I would not occupy five minutes in all.

Mr. Busteed warmly opposed the introduction o the evidence at this time, asserting very emphatically that his cross-examination would not certainly occupy less than fifty minutes.

Mr. Brady, of course, thereupon ceased to insist on the proposal, as it was now near five o'clock.

The Judge ordered an adjournment till twelve o'clock on Thursday.

Mr. Busteed very strenuously urged the Judge to adjourn to an earlier hour.

The Judge characterized Mr. Busteed's tone as improperly excited.

Mr. Busteed implored the Judge not drive him into a passion.

The Judge then shrugged his shoulders and adjourned the Court till eleven o'clock to-day.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT—Nov. 3.

Before Judge Ingersoll.

A. J. Walker vs. George Gray et al.—This was a motion for an injunction to restrain the defendants from an alleged infringement of a patent issued to the plaintiff Oct. 7, 1856, for an improved bracket for steel-rod door-springs. The defendants, who are manufacturers, contended that the bracket which they made was no infringement of the plaintiff's patent, and that the plaintiff was not the first inventor of what he had patented. After hearing the evidence on both sides, however, Judge INGERSOLL granted the motion.

For complainant, Mr. Dickerson. For defendants, Mr. Cozzens and Mr. Sears.

SUPREME COURT.—Special Term.—Nov. 4.

Before Hon. Justice Duer.

DECISIONS.

Bamder et al. vs. Moon.—Motion to strike out parts of complaint as irrelevant denied, with $7 costs.

Adams vs. The Mayor, &c.—Motion to amend complaint allowed, on payment of $10 costs, costs of former trial and costs of appeal. Defendant to have 20 days to answer or demur to the amended complaint.

Peers vs. Wm. J. Baker.—Motion to strike out exception in case granted, with $7 costs.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS.

Before City Judge Russell.

Immediately at the opening of this Court, yesterday, the following gentlemen were impanneled as a Grand Jury for the November term:

Clarkson Crolius, Foreman.

Wm. F. Aims,	E. H. Barnard,	Michael Chrystal,
Samuel Down,	G. W. Farnham,	Thomas Hope,
George H. Loop,	Geo. F. Peterson,	W. Rhinelander,
Peter Roberts,	John C. White,	Daniel B. Bethel,
Richard Barton,	Elisha Bloomer,	Jas. Campbell,
Aaron N. Cohen,	C. C. Goodhue,	Ira Hutchinson,
Charles H. Mount,	John Pettigrew,	John D. Scott.
	Thomas Trainer.

Judge RUSSELL charged them on all the points prescribed by statute, the laws against usury, against the taking of higher fees than those allowed by law, by public officers, on the election law, on the law against lotteries, and on the liquor law. He instructed the Grand Jury, following the example of Recorder Smith, that no indictment could be found against those parties selling liquor on Sundays, who were not licensed to sell liquor on any day. Only those who had taken out a license could be indicted.

MURDER CASE REFERRED TO.

Annie Murphy, charged with murdering her husband's child, by another wife, was discharged on her own recognizance, in $1,000, to appear again when called on. The circumstances of the case were peculiar. In the October term her husband was convicted of bigamy and sent to the State Prison for five years. Anne Murphy was his second or unlawful wife. In her indignation at finding he had another wife living, she on two or three occasions attempted to injure the child, the offspring of that other wife, but was prevented. At length the child was found drowned, but there was no positive legal evidence to connect her with the death, although her guilt was beyond all doubt, from the nature of the circumstances surrounding the transaction. The first wife, mother of the child, was in Court, and appeared in terrible distress.

THOMAS RAGAN was convicted of having in his possession nineteen counterfeit bills on the Housatonic Bank, besides other spurious money, knowing the same to be forged. The Judge deferred his sentence till Saturday, to give time for his counsel, Mr. Spencer, to prepare exceptions to the proceedings in the trial on the part of the District-Attorney.

SUPREME COURT, KINGS COUNTY—Special Term, Nov. 2, 1857.

Present, Hon. Lucien Birdseye, one of the Justices of said Court.

Herman Stahl vs. Edward C. Charles and others.—Sale of mortgaged premises set aside, and resale granted, on terms.

In the matter of Julia A. Matthews and Amelia A. Matthews, infants.—Referee's report confirmed, &c.

The Middletown Bank vs. Peter Morris et al.—Motion to change place of trial denied, with $10 costs to plaintiff, to abide event.

Thomas Davenport et al. vs. John Grigg.—Judgment set aside, and defendant allowed to answer; $10 costs of motion to defendant, to abide event. Issue to be referred for hearing and decision, if either party elects, to Samuel J. Wilkin.

Edmond S. Dudley vs. William S. Conant, impleaded.—Clerk's adjustment of costs affirmed, with $7 costs to defendant.

COURT CALENDAR—Thursday, Nov. 5.

SUPREME COURT—Circuit.—Nos. 303, 304, 306, 307, 171, 268, 273, 284, 134, 1666, 160, 286, 308, 309, 310.

SUPERIOR COURT—438, 439, 592, 178, 488, 490, 491, 492, 1607, 536, 287, 183, 328, 494, 277, 589, 589, 647, 608, 471, 583, 119.

Police Intelligence.

ELECTION ROGUES AND ILLEGAL VOTERS.—The returns of the acting Inspectors of the different Wards, made yesterday morning at the Deputy Superintendent's office, showed that thirty-five arrests were made on election day for rioting and disorderly conduct at the polls. In the Nineteenth Ward there were fifteen arrests. In the Eighth Ward five arrests were made. There were were four in the Sixteenth, two in the Twelfth, two in the Tenth, two in the Third, and two in the Second Ward. There was one arrest in the First, one in the Twenty-first and one in the Twenty-second Wards. In addition to the above nine persons were arrested on a charge of illegal voting, or attempting to vote illegally. Of these five were arrested in the Fourth Ward, Charles Bogard, Luciemo Luciner, Joseph Monul, John White and James Barr. The other parties arrested were John McLaughlin and John Boyle in the Sixth Ward, Mr. Bruce in the Ninth Ward and Joseph R. Garrell in the Twentieth Ward. The illegal voters were all committed for examination yesterday. Of the disorderlies some were committed in $500 bail to answer, others gave bail to keep the peace, and a good many were discharged altogether. The examination of those committed for trial will take place in the Court of General Sessions.

GOING IN FOR CHANCES.—James Tellington lives in Patterson, N. J. He came to the City on election day, and although the sale of liquor was interdicted in New-York on that day he found no difficulty in procuring it in places where it was dispensed as freely as on other days. Finally, he became very much inebriated, and three boys, each about 18 years old, took him up to the corner of Eighth-avenue and Thirty-fifth-street, on pretence of showing him the way to the Crystal Palace. Suddenly two of them seized him by each arm, while the third commenced rifling his pockets. This coup d'état sobered their intended victim, and the moment he was released he seized them, and shouted for the police at the top of his voice. Officer Russell immediately came to his rescue, and arrested the three rascals, who gave their names as John Collins, Peter Concklin and John Carroll. They were taken to the Twentieth Ward Station-house, and locked in a cell, but came very near escaping. They had removed a great many bricks from the wall, when they were discovered, put in irons, and conveyed to another cell. Yesterday, Justice DAVISON, at Jefferson Market, committed them for examination.

A WIFE SUPPOSED TO BE MURDERED—ARREST OF HER HUSBAND.—An Irish woman, named Mary Cain, was found dead in her bed yesterday morning, in the basement of No. 173 Varick-street, where she resided with her husband. It is supposed that she died from the effects of injuries received at the hands of her husband. Parties who live in the same house state that the husband has been in the habit of beating his wife quite frequently, and had several times turned her out doors at a late hour, and kept her out all night. The husband says she fell against the stove while intoxicated, and thus received the injuries which caused her death. Officer Cannon, of the Eighth Ward, was called, and arrested the husband. Coroner Hills visited the house and took a view of the dead body on the premises. He secured the attendance of several of the occupants as witnesses, and set down the inquest for to-day. Cain is the second husband of the deceased. Her first husband was, a few years since, convicted of murder and sentenced to be hung, but the sentence was subsequently commuted to imprisonment for life, and he is now in Sing Sing Prison.

PICKPOCKET ARRESTED.—James McCullough was arrested yesterday, charged with picking the pocket of a Frenchman named Julius Colpeart of $28. The officer found on him $20 of the money. He was committed by Justice BRENNAN for trial.

MATCHLESS.—KNOX has no occasion to adopt any of the present popular methods of attracting public attention, either to his establishment or his fabrics, for the former, owing to the universal popularity of the latter, is run down with visitors, and as he has always sold his Hats at a very trifling advance of the cost price, it would be rather difficult to make any reduction thereon. KNOX, as the world knows, is at No. 212 Broadway.

NEW-JERSEY.

TRIAL OF CUEVA—VERDICT OF MANSLAUGHTER.—In the Hudson County Court of Oyer and Terminer, yesterday, Judge OGDEN presiding, A. O. ZABRISKIE, Esq., counsel for FREDERICK CUEVA, on trial for the murder of OSCAR DE GRANVAL, resuming his argument in behalf of the prisoner, at the opening of the Court, at 9½ o'clock, spoke for an hour and a half, and made an affecting appeal to the Jury in behalf of his client. When he had concluded, the Attorney-General, Hon. WILLIAM L. DAYTON, arose and very eloquently urged the case for the people. He occupied nearly four hours. Judge OGDEN charged the Jury. At 5½ o'clock they retired; at 6 o'clock they returned into Court with a verdict of manslaughter. Very few expected that the Jury would arrive at a verdict so speedily. The penalty for this offence in the State of New-Jersey is imprisonment in the State Prison for not less than 2 nor more than 10 years. The Court adjourned to Wednesday of next week, when CUEVA will be sentenced.

THE ELECTION IN HUDSON COUNTY.—An election was held in Hudson County on Tuesday for Sheriff, Coroners and three Members of Assembly. The day passed off very quietly, there being an unusual lack of interest, and a light vote was polled. The returns show the success of the entire Democratic ticket, with the exception, perhaps of the Member of Assembly in the Third District, where the vote is so close that it is claimed by both parties, and must await the official canvass to determine the result.

WEDNESDAY, Nov. 4—P. M.

The detailed accounts from Europe by the Arago, and the telegraphic dispatch from the Canada at Halifax, are favorably construed on the Stock Exchange to-day, and the buoyant feeling shown yesterday afternoon has been followed up by a further considerable rise, making for the week 5 ₱ cent. on New-York Central, 3 ₱ cent. on New-York and Erie, 4 ₱ cent. on Reading, and 4½ ₱ cent. on Cleveland and Toledo. These four lead the Share list in activity, while nearly all the other Road Stocks sympathize more or less in the advance. Illinois Central left off 86, Rock Island 70, Hudson River 15, Panama 73, and Michigan Southern Preferred 25. At the afternoon session of the Brokers, the buyers strongly predominated, and were eager buyers at the close of New-York Central at 69, Erie 15¾@⅞, Reading 33, and Toledo 32. The Bond list was equally firm, partly on some considerable orders or Missouri State Sixes which touched 70 ₱ cent. Illinois Central Bonds were done at 72@71 ₱ cent., and New-York long six ₱ cents. at 104½ ₱ cent. The general market left off steady.

There was nothing done in Foreign bills after the closing of the Boston mail yesterday afternoon. The market for the Collins packet on Saturday will be governed, in a considerable measure, by the tenor of the Canada's mail, only a brief abstract of which has yet been received by telegraph. She is said to have on board $1,000,000 in Gold. The California remittance of Oct. 5 was delivered this forenoon. It amounts to $1,464,457, exclusive of the drafts on the Sub-Treasury. The rate for Gold Coin to-day is 100¼@100¾ ₱ cent. Philadelphia Funds have slightly improved, the quotation to-day, 95½@96 ₱ cent.

The market for Money is without alteration from yesterday's report. This being the fourth of the month, and a heavy day with the Dry Goods people on their notes dated eight months from 1st March, there is a liberal spirit evinced at bank to renew most of the paper, or to discount for the payers an equal amount in other bills. The business of granting private extensions both at bank and among and between the Importers and Jobbers, is of daily occurrence, and although new names are occasionally mentioned as in trouble, no pains are taken to give them publicity. The spirit of forbearance has become pretty general. Occasionally we hear of suits being threatened or instituted, but these are the exceptions to the rule. Some of the early October failures are likely to turn out better than at first anticipated. The bills of one or two of these houses are in request at 50 @60 cents on the dollar, cash. For the paper of Messrs. BOWEN & MCNAMEE, (who propose to pay in full on their extended bills,) as much as 60 cents has been paid. We understand that Messrs. HARPER BROTHERS contemplate an early resumption of payments in full.

The California steamer, on the Pacific side, having put back to San Francisco, as heretofore reported. The Star of the West, on this side, brings market advices as late as the 11th October. They will be found under the California news in another part of this paper.

Among the passengers who returned home in the Arago is Mr. AUGUST BELMONT, the New-York Correspondent of ROTHSCHILDS, and late representative of the Government of the United States at the Hague.

The Gold and other remittances of Messrs. TALLANT & WILDE, of San Francisco, have been handed over to Mr. ROBERT W. HALLETT, in consequence of the late stoppage of payment by Messrs. ROBB, HALLETT & Co. We have been requested to publish the following notice on the subject:

NEW-YORK, Nov. 1, 1857.

The undersigned have transferred and set over to Mr. ROBERT W. HALLETT the Gold shipments of Messrs. TALLANT & WILDE, of San Francisco, for the express purpose of meeting drafts drawn against them.

ROBB, HALLETT & CO.

Mr. ROBB himself writes as follows to his counsel in explanation of the satisfactory arrangement made for the protection of the drafts of the San Francisc houses:

NEW-YORK, Tuesday, Nov. 3, 1857.

GENTLEMEN: In transferring the shipments of Gold by Messrs. TALLANT & WILDE, of San Francisco, to ROBERT W. HALLETT, now in transitu, I have alone had in view the protection of parties who have purchased bills from Messrs. TALLANT & WILDE on my firm in this City, which have been made against their shipments, believing that their claim had preference over all others, and that every obligation of good faith imposed upon me to do all in my power to carry out this purpose, and which has not only received your sanction, but the approval of DANIEL LORD, Esq., your associate counsel.

It is proper for me to state that I relinquish entirely to Mr. HALLETT the application of the Gold shipments, for the purpose agreed upon, and shall avoid any interference now that the transfer is made. Very respectfully, JAMES ROBB.

To Messrs. CUMMINS, ALEXANDER & GREEN, Counselors, &c.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company have voted to pass their usual half-yearly dividend. The Philadelphia banks have all declared the usual half-yearly dividend for the 1st of November, reducing the rate, however, to 3 ₱ cent. for the six months.

Mr. DRAPER and Mr. NICOLAY both hold Auction Sales of Stocks to-morrow at 12½ o'clock, at the Merchants' Exchange.

The Third-avenue Railroad has made the usual quarterly dividend of 2 ₱ cent. on the capital stock.

The Land Sales of the Illinois Central Railroad Company for October were $265,937.

The Sub-Treasury received to-day $90,320; paid, $129,982; and held at the close $5,761,063.

The Express of this afternoon reports that The La Crosse and Milwaukee Road has reorganized by electing the following Directors: Stephen Clark, Eli Perry, D. V. N. Radcliff, and Artemas Fish, of Albany; James B. Brewster, D. F. Wheeler and Alfred Noxon, of New-York; Byron Kilbourn, H. L. Palmer, Jackson Hadley, E. H. Goodrick, M. M. Strong and Moses Kneeland, of Milwaukee.

The earnings of the New-York and New-Haven Railroad for the month of October, 1857:

For Passengers	$87,936 76
For Freight	11,000 00
Total	$98,936 76
Less due other Road	2,4127 22
Total	$74,809 54
Receipts for October, 1856	87,999 43
Decrease October, 1857	$13,149 89

We have been informed that all the checks of SATHER & CHURCH which were presented to-day at the American Exchange Bank have been paid, and the funds in hand are entirely exhausted. It is a singular coincidence that the amount presented was exactly covered by the remittance received, and of course all that now comes will lay over.

The Currency.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

SIR: At the present time in money circles the great desideratum seems to be a reliable, uniform circulating medium, for obtaining which varied spirits of said circles propose various methods. A suggestion made in the TIMES a week or two since relative to the State issuing notes to owners of property, is, in my estimation, with a little expansion and elaboration, worthy of attention.

The State might withdraw the right from its citizens of issuing bank notes, and issue its own notes, and pass them out without interest, say to one-half the amount of a mortgage made by the proprietor directly to the State on unencumbered real estate; the value and title of said property being certified by the proper local officials. A State Department of Issue would be necessary, the expense of which could be provided for by an annual tax laid on the mortgages pledged, a list of which, with authority to collect the amount, could be sent down to the local collectors, whose remuneration, as well as all official fees, should be paid directly by the department, and the State should hold all officials strictly accountable as its servants, so far as it would use them. Let these notes be issued for a certain number of years—as many as bills will wear in active service—with the date of expiration conspicuous, when they should be replaced by a new issue of the same plates. All lost notes might go to the credit of the above tax by using the same amount of new issue for expenses, &c. Private Banks of deposit and discount would furnish accommodation to the commercial community, without being under the necessity of hoarding gold in their vaults to redeem the currency; nor would the failure in business of a banking-house create any more alarm among note-holders, than the failure of a purely mercantile firm, and depositors would be as well protected as under the present system. Each State might adopt a similar system, and make the currency equal to Specie throughout the Union by the action of the associated States. With such an association daily clearances would not be needed, as there would be no necessity for presenting a State's obligations at the Department, except at the end of the term for which the notes were issued; and even then similar obligation would redeem them; but if the States should agree to settle the balance in Specie, the tax might be made to produce a surplus, over expense of management, which surplus, being notes, could be turned into Specie when required; and the amount redeemed by it might be retired, and credited to the mortgages held as the basis. Under a system like this, the owners of property could turn it into an available shape, enterprise would not be crippled, nor would the foreign capitalist draw such large amounts in interest and dividends from the country, which capital is lent on the same substratum, on which this reliable currency would be based. If such a system were introduced Specie would enter into circulation more freely, and assume some of the duties of a general currency; and everybody dealing with Uncle Sam could obtain Gold to meet the claims of this venerable gentlemen. If he would still insist on Specie transactions, and not trust the promises of his children.

It might be said that the provision of the United States Constitution, prohibiting the States to emit bills of credit, or make anything but gold or silver coin a tender for the payment of debt, stands in the way of any such system, but this is the time to make amendments.

If you think this worthy a place in your columns, I may in another article turn attention to objections and advantages. R. H.

Financial Reform.

"When any payment is to be made by the United States, let it be done, not by a single draft on the Sub-Treasurer at New-York, or Boston, or New-Orleans, or Philadelphia—but by many drafts for small sums. And let the drafts be engraved and printed—differing a little in size and shape from bank-notes. These drafts will be as convenient as the paper currency we have been in the habit of using; but, unlike that, they will always truly represent exactly so much gold lying ready for them at the Mints or elsewhere—ready for exportation, as well as for domestic use. This paper currency the people will not carry to the Sub-Treasury, or to the Mint for payment—until they want gold. Much of it will remain in circulation from hand to hand. And in the process of years it will always adapt itself exactly to the demand for paper money, and will never by depreciation drive gold out of the country. Although opposed in principle to a paper currency for small amounts, (and the introduction of gold as our money takes away the excuse for small notes,) yet for the present need I would recommend a moderate issue at first of such drafts for $10 and $5 each. If issued immediately they would fill up a void which is now very inconvenient, and shopkeepers would give change in gold and silver, and regulate their prices accordingly. If this really constitutional currency be kept back, it will force the continued use of inconvertible bank-notes. If freely used, it may begin a new era."

The Cotton Trade.

From Wright's Weekly Circular.

In this city we have had some slight renewal of business in Cotton; several small parcels have been taken to fill peremptory orders from Manchester, &c. Prices, though still far from settled, have assumed a degrees of steadiness, and enable me to quote Uplands Middling, 12¾c.@12¾c.; Good Middling, 13c.; Orleans, 13c. for Middling, and 13¼c.@13½c. for Good Middling. The sales since 27th ult., to last evening, I estimate at 750 bales. The clearances during the same time have been 1,195 bales, all to Liverpool.

SOUTHERN MARKETS.—More activity has prevailed than might have been expected, in view of the difficulties in passing bills of exchange. The orders from English and French houses being peremptory, and for early execution, have induced great exertion on the part of buyers in the South; the great decline in New-Orleans and Mobile has enabled them to fill orders, even at the very low rates of exchange at present prevailing. Particulars are given elsewhere. The telegraph puts us in possession of the business for a week later, as follows:

RECEIPTS, EXPORTS, &c.—The receipts are 197,000 bales less than to the corresponding dates last year; some of this must be attributed to the lateness of the season, but a good deal to the indisposition of planters to send cotton to market for sale at the recent heavy decline, and, while monetary affairs are in such a deranged condition. Planters will persist in this course until later accounts from Europe foreshadow the probable price at which the cotton will be needed there. A systematic holding back by planters will not result in their favor ultimately. The exports are larger this week than was expected, particularly to Great Britain, for notwithstanding the difficulties in the way of negotiating, we have cleared 23,000 bales for Great Britain; 6,000 bales to France, and 7,000 bales to other foreign ports.

CROP.—We have accounts from Augusta, Ga., of the occurrence of a frost the night of the 27th ult., and in other sections of the State. It is too soon, however, to know the effect of this on the crop of that locality. From other cotton-growing districts we have no complaints; on the contrary, the reports are, that the crop, under the favorable weather for the past three weeks, gives better promise. It is still too early to form an opinion as to the probable extent of the crop, though the South have pretty generally adopted 3,000,000 bales as the probable yield.
